LAW FOR HAWAII TERRITORY

The Work of the Commission Appointed by the President Has Been Accomplished.

American Members Return from the Islands With a Draft of the Bill Providing the Machinery of Government.

GRAVE PROBLEMS TREATED WITH SENSE AND DISCRETION.

Satisfactory Arrangements Made for Terminating the Anomalous Conditions Which Now Prevail—Citizens of the Embryonic State Shall Vote Freely—A Money or Property Requirement for Electors of the Upper House—Ten Years' Time Allowed in Which to Change the Labor System—Land Laws Adopted in Their Entirety—Settlement to Be Arranged With the ex-Queen for the Property Which She Claims as Belonging to the Crown—Navigation and Fisheries Questions—System of Courts to Be Changed—Pearl Harbor Improvement—Cable System.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hawaii is to come into the United States as a Territory, with all the governmental machinery of an embryonic State, according to the plans reached by the commission which returned today from its visit to the islands. In the dispatch box, which is 'carefully guarded by the sergeant-at-arms of the commission, lies the draft of a bill for the government of the new Territory. It was carefully considered by the entire commission, section by section, and while it has not passed to final approval, it contains all the essential features which will be found in the report to be made by the commission to Congress at the opening of the session in December.

The American members of the commission arrived today on the steamer Gaelic, after nearly two months' absence. They will meet again in Washington November 14, when they will be joined by the Hawaiian members, who are expected to come to this country about the first of next month. The American members will insist upon the work of the body being finished by December 1, as they believe the anomalous condition of affairs which now obtains in Hawaii should be altered as soon as possible.

The members refused today to discuss the result of their labors, except in the most general terms, saying that they are perfectly satisfied with developments, but from a trustworthy
source the main features of the bill were gained. Aside from a general determination to make the form of the new government a Territorial one, there were many questions difficult of settlement, and some of these are still open. Not the least of these was that of suffrage. It was agreed that the citizens of the islands should vote freely, but when it came to determining the qualifications of electors for members of the upper house of the Legislature, the Senate, it was insisted by the islands that there should be a money or property requirement. This was finally put in the tentative draft of the bill at $1000 assessed valuation,
or $3000 worth of property.

The question of contract labor was another matter which called for numerous conferences. As the bill stands, it provides that there shall be granted to the planters ten years in which they must change from the contract to the free-labor plan. One matter which may open the way to further discussion was the insistence of the planters upon a provision permitting importation for all time of oriental labor for the cane fields. The sugar-growers are emphatic in their declaration that this concession will be necessary to enable them to carry on the production of sugar.

As to the land laws, there will be few changes. The commissioners are united in the belief that the present laws, which prevent the taking up of large holdings and their consolidation, are most beneficial, and especially adapted to the conditions of the country. As to the crown lands, it is understood that a settlement will be made with the former Queen on a basis to be mutually agreed upon. The negotiations are to be conducted by a commissioner from this country, who has no bias.

One of the provisions in the proposed laws does away with the fishing regulations, which have been a disturbing feature of Hawaiian land tenure. According to the native plan, the holder of the riparian rights controlled the fishing privileges for one mile to the sea. By the commission's plan the sea will be open to fishermen at every point.

During the sessions of the commission many hearings were granted to those interested in the transportation question. It was urged upon the commission that the navigation laws of this country should not be extended to the islands now, but that ships of every nation should be allowed to trade with the islands. The commission has agreed to this, but there is a chance that the Hawaiian members of the commission will be able to bring pressure to bear when they arrive which will result in securing this concession to foreigners in the islands.

The local revenue institution will be turned over to the American executive department having such matters in charge, at once, and the disestablishment of the Postal Savings Bank will be accomplished at once, unless, after conferences with the authorities in Washington, it is thought wise to continue it as an experiment. Provision will be made for revenue-cutting service, and also for internal-revenue service in the islands.

While these are only the outlines of some of the most important points,
the system of courts is to be radically changed so as to permit of a distinct city and Territorial government, as well as to revolutionize the police and military systems.

In the report which is to accompany the bill there will be two features of great importance. One is the clause urging an appropriation for the opening of the reef which shuts out vessels from Pearl Harbor. The members of the commission, when they visited the harbor, were enthusiastic over its possibilities. Since the harbor of Honolulu contains only seventy-five acres of anchorage room, it is argued that the wider area of Pearl Harbor is necessary for the expansion of trade which will follow American domination. In fact, with the necessity of a naval establishment in the islands, there is no course open but to make the larger harbor available.

The second point which will attract attention is said to be the recommendation that the government build and maintain cables from San Francisco to Hawaii and between various islands.
The necessity for such a means of communication being in the hands of the government appeals to the members of the commission forcibly, and it is said the recommendation in this respect is put in strong terms.

LATE HAWAIIAN NEWS.
CONGRESSIONAL COMMISSION EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON.
They Carry Memorials in the Matter of Government and a Governor for the Islands—The Senator Safe at Honolulu—Island's Exciting Voyage.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The steamship Gaelic arrived here today from Hongkong and Yokohama via Honolulu, bringing the Congressional Commission from the latter place. Under date of September 23, the Honolulu correspondent of the Associated Press writes that the Congressional Commission having completed its work, Senators Cullum and Morgan and Congressman Hitt left for Washington, where they will hold a meeting on November 14, which will be attended by Justice
Frear, and probably by President Dole.
During the last few days of their stay there, a number of petitions were sent to the commission by various foreign residents. The American union party, which claims to represent the American element in the island, sent a memorial requesting that the commission recommend a liberal form of territorial government. The memorial further favors a liberal suffrage law,
the extension of the United States tariff laws and shipping laws to Hawaii. The memorial asserts that it is for the best interests of the island
that the first Governor of Hawaii should be one who is not bound by any tie, political or otherwise, to any party or class of residents in Hawaii.

In speaking of the work of the commission, Senator Cullum said: "We have done as much as possible in the time at our disposal, and we have covered the ground thoroughly. When we meet in Washington we will go to the Hawaiian Islands and report."

The Hawaiian Senator arrived at Honolulu from Manila on September 18.

and will remain long enough to overhaul the machinery. While in the China Sea she encountered a typhoon and lay to for thirty-two hours. She had most of the sails and everything movable on her forward deck torn away, but suffered little serious damage. The Senator brought a number of non-commissioned officers and privates of the Eighteenth and Twenty-third Infantry and Third Artillery, whose terms of enlistment have expired.

Private Walter Johnson of Battery
A, Heavy Artillery of California Volunteers, has died of typhoid fever. There are 400 men sick at Camp McKinley and Camp Otis. They are suffering from a mild sort of epidemic due to poor water, and they are not ill
enough to be sent to the hospital.

The Hawaiian bark Iolani, Capt. Mc-Clure, has arrived at Honolulu from New York after a most exciting voyage. The Iolani sailed from New York on May 10, just after the news of Dewey's victory had been received, and when the Spanish fleet was supposed to be at Cape Verde Islands. Capt.
McClure thought that the Spaniards would not be looking for prizes near home, so he sailed close to the Cape Verde Islands. When within 300 miles of the islands, the wind failed, and for seventeen days he was becalmed. The ship drifted within 150 miles of the islands before a breeze came up. During all this time the crew of the Iolani was anxiously on the lookout for Spanish war vessels, but none were sighted.

While the Philadelphia was returning from a practice cruise on September 21 fire was discovered in her coal bunkers. No damage was done, and the fire was extinguished after about an hour's work.

SPECKELS UNLOADS.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company
today passed from the control of the Spreckels (Rudolph and C. A.) and is now in the hands of a syndicate of bankers and brokers, the new board of directors being as follows: Edward Pollitz, president; E. M. Walsh, Albert
M. Meyer, R. G. Brown, Charles Sutro.

Some time ago the Spreckels began to unload, and the stock was snapped up as fast as possible by the syndicate.
This was done quietly, and in a short time the new owner had control. The Spreckels, it is said, tried to rebuy,
but the syndicate refused to sell, and negotiations for the complete transfer were arranged, the deal being consummated today. The purchase price will reach $2,000,000 or $30 a share. When in January, 1894, the Spreckels secured control of the stock, it was not worth a cent a share, literally, but by manipulation and the improvement of the property, the stock went up. Today, after four and a half years' ownership of what was almost valueless stock, the Spreckels cleared up $2,000,000.

The new company will inaugurate extensive improvements and will operate
the Hawaiian plantations on a larger scale than under the old regime, and expect to make a handsome profit on the investment.

GO EAST TONIGHT.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—Little regarding the work of the commissioners in the islands and their probable recommendations could be learned, though they were willing to talk of the beauties of the islands and their kind and enthusiastic reception by the islanders. They did say, however, that the islands are destined to enjoy great prosperity in the near future, though all agreed that it would take an immense sum of money to develop their resources.

It was intimated that great consideration would be given by the commission in its report regarding the invasion of the island by Orientals. The islanders are already complaining of the increasing hordes of laborers, especially from Japan, the little brown men flocking to the islands in great numbers in anticipation of a restriction act.

The commissioners denied any differences with President Dole and expressed themselves as highly appreciative of the assistance rendered by that gentleman to the commission.
They speak highly of his treatment of them and all esteem him immensely. The commissioners will probably go east tomorrow night and will present their report to the President and will later appear before Congress.

WHILE VAN WYCK HOLDS
OUT TO BURN, ANY OLD DEMOCRAT
MAY RETURN.

The National Faction Decides That His Lamps are Good Enough to Shine Before Men—The Wooden-walkers Put Up Henry George II.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Executive Committee of the National Democratic party, the gold-standard Democrats, met today and decided Judge Augustus Van Wyck was acceptable to them as a candidate for Governor.

It was also decided that so long as Judge Van Wyck remained at the head of the ticket, the National Democratic party would remain neutral, or at least not be a disturbing element among Democrats. They will not hold a State convention.

THE WOODEN-WALKERS.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—At a meeting of the Chicago platform Democrats tonight, Henry George, son of the single-tax advocate, was nominated to head an independent Democratic ticket.
The nomination of Elliott F. Danforth for Lieutenant-Governor by the regular convention at Syracuse was endorsed.
The other candidates nominated are as follows:

Secretary of State, GIDEON J.
TUCKER of Kings.
Comptroller, J. J. McDONOUGH of Albany.

Treasurer, M. C. CATON of Buffalo.
Attorney-General, O. F. SNYDER of Buffalo.
Engineer and Surveyor, GEN. JAMES
A. LEE, Rockland county.

The meeting was not by any means harmonious. In fact, there were two meetings. That at which the nominations were made was conducted by Henry McDonald, the recognized leader of the movement, and Willis J. Abbott, prominent in the Henry George campaign last year.

The former organized the meeting and excluded a number of delegates who were almost valueless stock, the Spreckels cleared up $2,000,000.

After they were repulsed at the doors of the conference-room, they held a meeting of protest, Col. George H. Fisk acting as chairman. At the close of the two meetings, Col. Fisk announced himself for Henry George and Willis J.
Abbott said he had a personal assurance from George that he would accept the nomination. The Chicago platform in its entirety was reaffirmed.

Mataafa May Go to Samoa.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The State Department gives confirmation to the report that it has given its assent through the American Consul at Apia, Samoa, to return to Samoa, after an exile of ten years of the former King Mataafa. It is assumed that this chief is to be made King to succeed the late King Maitotea, who died about a month ago.

borough. R. McDonald is at the

Senator Hanna Gives His Views
Upon the Situation.

Public Sentiment Seems Against

THE STATEMENT SIGNIFICANT

It May Represent What the President Believes.

America Morally Bound to Give a Good Government.

Temporary Protectorate at Least
Must Be Established.

FUTURE IS LEFT TO CONGRESS.

Confidence Expressed That There
Will Be No More Armed Trouble With Spain—And No Money Will Be Paid for Territory.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CLEVELAND (O.) Sept. 30.—The Leader has from its Washington correspondent the following interview with Senator Hanna concerning the Philippine question which is believed to represent the views of President McKinley:

"I do not know what the instructions given to our peace commissioners are," said Senator Hanna, "but so far as concerns the negotiations which will be instituted in Paris tomorrow, I can see no other result than that Spain will have to relinquish her sovereignty over not only Luzon Island, but the entire Philippine archipelago. Spain has no reason to expect to be able to retain any portion of the group. She went into the war and lost, and now ought to be prepared to suffer the consequences which such a defeat implies. I regard the Philippines as lost to Spain, and that being a foregone conclusion, in my opinion, the problem which next confronts us relates to the form of government which we will give the islands."

"Aside from the fact that the general sentiment of the country seems to be against returning any of the islands to Spain, the United States is under obligations to the insurgents to establish a stable and enlightened form of government throughout the entire archipelago. When the war broke out the Philippine Islands insurgents became,
in a certain sense, the allies of the Americans, and it is therefore our moral duty to see to it that in the future there will be assured safe and civilized rule, and until the United States determines in just what manner the Philippines ultimately shall be governed, we necessarily will have to consider the Philippines our wards."

"During this transitional period, the United States will be called upon to exercise a primitive or rather arbitrary form of control over the islands, and continue it until Congress finally evolves a system of government. In other words, it seems to me we will have to maintain a temporary protectorate over the archipelago, and this will be accomplished by means of the army and navy now in the Philippines and Philippine waters. What will be the ultimate fate of the islands, is, of course, a problem of the future.
Whether the Philippines will become an independent nation or a colony of the United States, or whether a long-time
American protectorate will be established will be a subject for Congress to decide."

"I feel confident that we will have no further trouble in an armed way with Spain. The only obstacle with which we may have to contend is the opposition of the insurgents to our plans. It is not at all certain or buying territory which we now control."

TUG OF WAR.

Commissioners at Paris Ready for Work.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] PARIS, Sept. 30.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The United States peace commission has taken possession of its working quarters, a suite of seven rooms on the ground floor of the Continental Hotel, at the corner of the Rue de Rivoli and the Rue Royale, commanding the Tuilleries Gardens and formerly used by the ex-empress Eugenie. American flags draped the entrance of the peace commission's apartments.

The clerical force of the commission has been systematized and is now working busily. The point of the Paris press is daily rendered into English for the information of the commissioners and the same thing is done with the newspapers of Madrid. Many wooden boxes of records, data and authorities affecting the case of the United States were unpacked today and carefully arranged.

The American commission held its usual session this morning. It is believed the commissioners are carefully preparing their plans and arranging all the details of the work which will be taken up when the commission begins its joint session with the Spanish commission at the Hotel de la Paix, in the Louvre and other places of interest.

The Spanish commissioners formally deny the various interviews and paragraphs published in the newspapers. The secretary of the Spanish commission said to the representative of the Associated Press with the American commission: "No member of our commission has given any interview, and all which have appeared in the newspapers are instructions are false. We are here to defend ourselves, and naturally we are not willing to give any of our weapons to our opponents."

McMILLAN IT IS.

The President Said to Have Chosen Him.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Sun's Washington special says: "President McKinley has decided upon the man whom he will ask to accept the post of Ambassador to England. The name of the President's selection has been submitted to Secretary of State Hay and received his approval. The President will probably not announce the appointment until after the election. It is said, however, that Senator McMillan of Michigan is the man."

This means that Gov. Pinckney of Michigan, who has all along been Alger's political enemy, will have the appointment of McMillan's successor in the Senate, and that Alger is to be the man. Alger denied the story tonight, saying he intended serving out his term as Secretary of War.

CLASSED AS CRAFTY.

LI HUNG CHANG'S OPPONENT BANISHED TO ILL.

The True Reason Is Declared to Be That Chang Ying Huan Was a Powerful Supporter of the Emperor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, Oct. 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] According to a dispatch to the Times from its Peking correspondent, the imperial decree issued yesterday (Friday) dismissing from office and banishing to Ill, Chinese Turkistan, Chang Yin Huan, Li Hung Chang's opponent in the Foreign Office, and former Minister at Washington, "acquits the dismissed official of complicity with Kang Yuel, the Cantonese reformer, but convicts him vaguely as crafty and treacherous."

The true reason for his dismissal and banishment, the Times correspondent asserts, is that Chang Yin Huan was a powerful supporter of the Emperor's party.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, Oct. 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The correspondent of the Globe at Hongkong says Kang Yuel Wei, the Cantonese reformer, in interviews since his escape from Peking, has said he did not because the Emperor informed him of a plot to depose him and kill the reform leaders. His Majesty, the former leader added, wanted Kang Yuel Wei to escape while there was time for him to do so, and commissioned him to endeavor to obtain protection for the Emperor and for the empire.

MERRITT AT MANILA.

REPORT OF THE OPERATIONS THERE MADE PUBLIC.

Highest Commendation Paid, the Exemplary Conduct in Action and Inaction of the Troops.

BRILLIANT ATTACK ON MANILA

NEITHER ASSISTANCE NOR RESISTANCE FROM FILIPINOS.

Advance and Plan of Occupation Carried Out Exactly as Contemplated—Spaniards Disarmed Quietly.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The report of Maj.-Gen. Wesley Merritt of the operations about Manila was made public at the War Department today. It is dated on board the transport China, August 31. After giving briefly the story of his embarkation and arrival at Manila and the disposition of the troops there, he says:

"I found Gen. Greene's command encamped on a strip of sand, lying parallel to the shore of the bay and not far distant from the beach, but owing to the great difficulties of landing supplies the greater portion of the force had shelter tents only and were suffering many discomforts. The camp being situated in a low, flat place, without shelter from the heat of the tropical sun or adequate protection during the terrific downpour of rain so frequent at this season. I was at once struck by the exemplary spirit of patience, even cheerful endurance, shown by the officers and men under such circumstances, and this feeling of admiration for the manner in which the American soldiers, volunteers and regulars alike, accept the necessary hardships of the work they have undertaken to do has grown and increased with every phase of the difficult and trying campaign which the troops of the Philippine expedition have brought to such a brilliant and successful conclusion."

"The Filipinos, or insurgent forces at war with Spain, had, prior to the arrival of the American land forces, been in possession of Manila for several months, and were at the time of my arrival in considerable force, variously estimated at from 10,000 to 15,000 men. These troops, well supplied with small arms, with pieces of artillery and with every phase of the Spanish line of detached works throughout their entire extent."

"Gen. Merritt then speaks of Aguinaldo's accomplishments previous to his arrival, and continues: 'Gen. Aguinaldo did not visit me on my arrival or offer his services as a subordinate military leader, and as my instructions from the President fully contemplated the occupation of Manila by American land forces, and stated that the powers of the military occupant are absolute and complete, I did not consider it wise to hold any direct communication with the insurgent leader until he should be in a position to issue a proclamation and enforce my authority. In the event when his pretensions should clash with my designs.'"

"For these reasons, the preparations for the attack on the city were conducted without reference to the situation of the insurgent forces. The wisdom of this course was subsequently demonstrated by the fact that when the troops of my command carried the Spanish entrenchments, extending from the sea to the Passay road on the extreme north, and the city of Manila, I found the insurgent forces in a position to issue a proclamation and enforce my authority. In the event when his pretensions should clash with my designs.'"

"To return to the situation of Gen. Greene's command at the time of my arrival, it will be seen that the difficulty in gaining an avenue of approach to the Spanish line lay in the fact that the Spanish forces were in a position to issue a proclamation and enforce my authority. In the event when his pretensions should clash with my designs.'"

"Upon the assembly of MacArthur's brigade in support of Greene's, I had about 8500 men in position to attack, and I deemed the time had come for final action. During the time of the night attacks, I had communicated my desire to Admiral Dewey that he would allow his ships to open fire on the Spanish entrenchments, believing that such action would stop the night-firing and loss of life, but the Admiral had declined to order it unless we were in danger of losing our position by the results of the Spanish fire, for the reason that, in his opinion, it would precipitate a general engagement, for which he was not ready. Now, however, the Spanish forces were in a position to issue a proclamation and enforce my authority. In the event when his pretensions should clash with my designs.'"

"The letter was sent August 7, and a reply was received some days later to the effect that the Spanish were without place of refuge for the increased number of wounded, sick, women and children now lodged here at night. On the 9th the joint demand of the surrender of the city was made. The demand was made on the hopelessness of the struggle on the part of the Spaniards, and that every consideration of humanity demanded that the city should not be subjected to bombardment under such circumstances. The captain-general's reply of same date stated that the council of defense held at Manila had decided not to accept the demand, but the captain-general offered to consult his government, if we would allow him the time strictly necessary for communications by way of Hongkong."

"This was declined on our part, for the reason that it could, in the opinion of the Admiral, be construed as a continuance of the situation with no immediate result favorable to us, and the necessity was apparent and very urgent that the city should be taken at once to compel the enemy to give up the town, in order to relieve our troops from the trenches and from the great exposure to disease and other conditions which was unavoidable in a bivouac during the rainy season. The demand was made on the hopelessness of the struggle on the part of the Spaniards, and that every consideration of humanity demanded that the city should not be subjected to bombardment under such circumstances. The captain-general's reply of same date stated that the council of defense held at Manila had decided not to accept the demand, but the captain-general offered to consult his government, if we would allow him the time strictly necessary for communications by way of Hongkong."

A CURIOSITY.

Constitution Aguinaldo Was to Have Proclaimed.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says Gen. Aguinaldo, the Philippine representative, was to have proclaimed the Philippine constitution which Aguinaldo was to have proclaimed at Malolos.

By this constitution Aguinaldo formally renounces the title of dictator and assumes that of President of the revolutionary government of the Philippines. He is to be assisted by four secretaries—secretary of state, marine and commerce, secretary of war and public works, secretary of police, interior and justice, secretary of health, agriculture and industry. A congress is provided for, to be composed of representatives of all the provinces of the archipelago.

An important feature of the constitution in view of the probability that Aguinaldo will try to obtain recognition from European governments, is that part describing the duties of Secretary of State. It provides that the office of Secretary of State shall be divided into three departments—for diplomacy, for marine and for commerce. The department of diplomacy will study and transact all external relations, the diplomatic negotiations with foreign powers. The department of marine shall study and transact all business pertaining to trade, commerce and navigation. The department of commerce will transact all business pertaining to trade, commerce and navigation.

GREAT STRETCHES OF THE WESTERN COUNTRY ON FIRE.

Flames in the Northern Part of Wisconsin Quenched by Heavy Rain—Pecuniary Loss Not Over a Million—Destruction Still Going on in Colorado.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] MILWAUKEE, Sept. 30.—Reports received at the railroad offices in this city are to the effect that the forest fires in the northern part of the State were quenched by a heavy fall of rain last night. The heaviest loss was suffered at Cumberland, where twenty-five families were rendered homeless by the flames, and a large sawmill plant valued at $225,000, was wiped out. Wires are down in all directions, and particulars of the ruin wrought have not yet been received. Only one death as far as known has resulted, that of Mrs. Jacob Corson, at Drywood. Two children of Mrs. Corson were killed, and while attempting to rescue their mother. The pecuniary loss is not expected to reach over $1,000,000.

THE CUMBERLAND FIRE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] ST. PAUL (Minn.), Sept. 30.—A Cumberland, Wis., special to the Dispatch says:

Cumberland presents a sad sight today. The middle portion of the country is a smoldering heap of ruins. The loss is about $135,000. Forest fires were swept into the city from the south about 6 o'clock last night by a tornado. The fire started on the east and west sides of the city at the same time. The flames spread with a rapidity that threatened not only the entire city, but the lives of the inhabitants as well. Every building was filled with smoke and flying debris. A timely downpour of rain, lasting about twenty minutes, enabled the firemen to check the progress of the flames on the west side of the city, but a human power could not save the city east of the Omaha Railroad, including the lumber yard and the residence of the Governor. The loss is roughly estimated at $135,000. The loss is roughly estimated at $135,000. The loss is roughly estimated at $135,000.

On the south side of the Rio Grande, from Minutun to Gratiot, the railroad men report a steady blaze of fire plainly visible from the smaller valleys. Many ranches have been abandoned. There appears to be no hope of a cessation of the conflagration except by a very heavy rain, or the demolition of the timber by the destroying element.

Swan, game commissioner, states there is no doubt but that the fires are caused by carelessness of campers and people generally, during a season of unusually dry weather. A. C. May, chief United States Forest, has gone to the west slope to inspect the country under government control, where fires are burning.

ALEMENA DESTROYED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] MILWAUKEE, Sept. 30.—A dispatch from Rice Lake says the forest fire in that vicinity was checked by light rains last night. Fifty farmers near Rice Lake lost all their possessions. Johnson Brothers' Lumber Company, Rice Lake, lost their mill and stock of hardware worth over $100,000.

The town of Alemena, near Rice Lake, is reported destroyed. The Soo Railroad bridge near Alemena was burned, stopping all trains on that line. No loss of life has been reported. The greatest damage has been done in the townships of Cumberland, Turtle Lake, Clinton, Stanford, Barron, Oak Grove and Cedar. A special from Eau Claire says the Northwestern Lumber Company lost 2,000,000 feet of sawlogs above Stanley.

Fifield, Wis., reports much damage in that region. The road from Pike Lake summer resort to Fifield is impassable on account of the fallen timber, and a number of guests will be obliged to remain there until the road is cleared. Rain last night has checked the fires.

Springfield Rifles, Side Arms and Gatling Guns, with Munitiamen Attached, Arrive at Panama to Take Care of Strikers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] PANAMA (Col.), Sept. 30.—Sixty-eight members of Battery B of Galesburg arrived here this afternoon with Springfield rifles, side arms and two Gatling guns. Capt. C. C. Craig commanding. A flat car behind the engine held both Gatling guns, all ready to go in case of attack. The Sheriff displayed his star, but was not allowed to board the train.

The militia is in full charge of the city tonight and are patrolling the business streets. The utmost quiet prevails.

HELD UP BY A TRAIN.

ST. LOUIS (Mo.), Sept. 30.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Panama, Ill., says: "Two hundred Panama miners held up a special Baltimore and Ohio train at the town of Shelby and Christian counties at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The train was carrying sixty imported negroes for work in the Panama mines. At the point of guns the miners expected to stop the train and demand a ransom. The train was delayed but a few minutes."

Sheriff Courtwright is said to be on the way to Toward Hill with a posse to release the negroes. A clash between the miners and the deputies is expected. Walter Paterbaugh, who left the train at Florida, being fearful of a hold-up and knowing that he would suffer rough treatment at the hands of the miners.

PANAMA (Col.), Sept. 30.—Last night was a terrifying one for the people of Panama. Two-thirds of the residences were unoccupied. Each house occupied by a group of families. In some cases all the residents of an entire block were in one home. Armed, terrorized and awaiting attack, the negroes were made to leave their homes by the negroes imported from Alabama. All night the striking union miners, reinforced by other miners from other towns, armed with shotguns and rifles, paraded the streets or lay in ambush on house-tops and in alleys, awaiting the coming of the negroes from Springfield and Fenwick stockades, who had announced an intention to march into the city and drive out the whites. But the deputy sheriffs were successful in keeping the negroes within the stockades. Many shots were fired in the vicinity of the mines throughout the night, but what result could not be ascertained.

Many visiting miners, heavily armed, arrived here today, and later, with 200 local miners, left for the town of Shelby and Christian counties, to intercept a Baltimore and Ohio train, said to be conveying sixty negro miners to Panama to take union men's places. Their purpose is to stop the train, unload the negroes and, at the point of guns, march them west. Sheriff Coburn will dispatch a posse to the county line to prevent a hold-up of the train within Christian county.

On the arrival of troops in Panama, it is intended to have all citizens, who are black or colored, wear the militia. Sheriff Coburn, in wiring for the troops last evening, reported one black killed in Wednesday's riot and several wounded.

Mayor Penwell, son of Operator Penwell, spent last night in the stockades. He said he was afraid of being mobbed by the miners. His father and mother have left the city.

MINTYRE'S TRIAL.

Witnesses Tell What They Remember of His Lecture.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] DENVER (Col.), Sept. 30.—In the coroner's trial, Rev. Joseph P. McIntyre, chaplain of the battleship Oregon, today, Benjamin H. Bayles of Denver, a retired business man, testified that the Oregon was sold by Captain McIntyre to the effect that Capt. Evans took the Iowa to the rear and kept her there during the battle. On the point of the Oregon's position, the wording of the lecture, the witness's memory was not clear. He remembered that the chaplain said at the time of the lecture that the Iowa was in the rear during the battle, but was not clear what the connection was between the lecture and what was said about division of prize money.

John Collins, a minister of the Methodist church, testified that Chaplain McIntyre said the Oregon was one of the best-built vessels in the navy. He stated that the reason western manufacturers had not been able to secure contracts for the other vessels was that the eastern shipbuilders had more influence with the government. Witnesses remembered that the chaplain said that the Oregon was sold by Captain McIntyre to the effect that Capt. Evans took the Iowa to the rear and kept her there during the battle. Necessity for quarters at 'Frisco. Shafter still in bed—Lee to return to Cuba—Deaths at Chickamauga.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Sept. 30.—Postmaster Willis received a letter from Gen. Shafter today, dated Camp Wikoff, September 26, in which he says of newspaper attacks upon him:

"The attacks of the yellow press upon me and others of the administration are simply outrageous. The articles are filled with untruths, beginning with the one that I was responsible for the equipment of the army with Springfield rifles, which you and every other sensible man knows is a lie. The behavior of some of the yellow journalists was so outrageous before we even got into Cuba that I had to put my hand on them, and after we got to Cuba, it was still worse. Their letters are the result of personal spite. I had come back with a defeated army there might have been some excuse for their talk, but having commanded one of the most successful campaigns of modern military history, it is simply an outrage.

"I am very fond of Evans, the Pension Commissioner, and I very much regret that you are defending him. Some of the G.A.R. are simply unbearable and seem to think if they can't have the treasury they will try to get it from the treasury by defrauding.

"Very truly yours,

Shafter Declares He Did All That Was Expected.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DETROIT, Sept. 30.—It has been asserted in many quarters that Gen. Shafter in his report to the War Department spoke slightly of Gen. H. M. Duffield and his part in the Santiago campaign. Shafter's alleged remarks in his report of the feat of Gen. Duffield's brigade at Aguadores are said to have been the basis of the above mentioned feeling of slight to Duffield.

Today Gen. Duffield received a telegram from Secretary Alger which, his friends think, is a vindication by Shafter of the alleged slight. In this telegram Secretary Alger quoted a message just received from Gen. Shafter in which the general says:

"Gen. Duffield did all he was expected to do in a most satisfactory manner. In looking over my report I see reference to his action at Aguadores was not clearly expressed and it escaped my notice. It was not expected he should do anything more than hold the enemy's troops at that place. To have attacked it with a view of its capture with the force under Gen. Duffield would have been the height of folly."

While not able to be about he is able to issue orders and manage the camp as though he was visiting the different regiments. Gen. Shafter will remain at the camp until the middle or end of next week. There were no deaths in the camp in the past twenty-four hours.

SICARD IS RETIRED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Rear-Admiral Montgomery Sicard, president of the board charged with the promotion of officers distinguished for gallantry during the late war, was retired today, having reached the age of 62 years. Secretary Long has, however, by special order, directed that the officer retain his place at the head of the promotion board.

Boynton, commanding at Chickamauga Park, wires that surgeons at the camp report the total number of deaths in camp from arrival of the regiments, April 14, to date, 425 volunteers and one regular. QUARTERS NEEDED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The necessity for adequate quarters for troops at the Presidio has been brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce; that body today mailed a communication to the Secretary of War, asking him to give the matter immediate and serious consideration, and to wire the result of his deliberations in order that the work may be commenced at the earliest possible date, as the winter rains have already commenced, and the cold weather will be upon us shortly.

SCHEDULED FOR CUBA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Major-General Fitzhugh Lee was at the War Department today. If there is no pressing for his immediate return to Jacksonville, he intends, after going to New York for a short visit, to spend a few days in the Virginia mountains upon the recommendation of his physician. Gen. Lee has been suffering somewhat from malaria. There seems to be no doubt in official circles that Gen. Lee is scheduled to go to Cuba.

ASKS OUR PERMISSION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MADRID, Sept. 30.—The government is seeking to obtain the consent of the United States to send Spanish troops from Manila to the Vizcaya Islands to suppress the rebellion, so as to avoid the necessity of dispatching troops from Spain.

PORTO RICO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

Americans Hold Two-thirds of the Island.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JUAN (Porto Rico), Sept. 30.—[By West Indian Cable.] The meeting of the military commission yesterday was private, and no news was given out regarding what transpired. The American troops now occupy fully two-thirds of the island. The Spanish line, running in a semicircle south of San Juan, is narrowed daily, and the Spaniards are receding toward the capital.

American business men are flocking here seeking for markets or looking for business chances. They are investigating the prevailing conditions, but the island is not ripe for business operations of any great importance, and many of them are returning disappointed to their homes. Rumors of out-lavry in the western part of the island continue.

MADRID DOINGS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

Troops Will Be Rushed to the Vizcayas.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MADRID, Sept. 30.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Cabinet has decided to authorize Gen. Rios to grant reforms in the Vizcayas Islands on the lines demanded by the inhabitants, and to concentrate his forces at Mindanao, as there are only 400 men garrisoning the islands.

The Spanish Minister also decided to protest to the government at Washington against the refusal of the Americans to permit Spanish troops to be sent to the Vizcayas while, it is claimed, the insurgents are constantly receiving arms and cannon with which to attack other islands, "which the Americans permit without even pretending to intervene."

The Spanish Cabinet, it is added, will acquaint its Paris commissioners with these contentions, in order that they may be used in the peace negotiations. Finally, it is announced the government would inform the government at Washington that it has decided to send reinforcements to the Vizcayas, and it has ordered several batteries of artillery in Andalusia to get ready to start for the Philippine Islands in twenty-four hours. In addition to this, the Cabinet will repeat its protests against the insurgents continuing to hold Spanish prisoners.

The government here estimates that there are 200,000 people in Porto Rico who desire to return to Spain.

SICK SOLDIERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

They Will Be Brought to Home Hospitals Immediately.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The War Department has posted the following: "The President has given instructions that all sick at Porto Rico be sent home as soon as they are able to travel with safety, his purpose being to relieve Gen. Brooke of the further care of the sick, and at the same time enable the men to receive the treatment obtainable in the better appointed home hospitals. These men will be furnished as in cases of those from Santiago. About 700 will leave today on the Relief and Missouri."

In conformity with the above, the quartermaster's department issued orders to the officers having charge of the shipping at New York, telling them to send ships to Porto Rico equipped for carrying the sick to this country. There are several regular transports now going to Porto Rico and Cuba. The route is from New York to San Juan, Ponce and Santiago. As soon as the ships are occupied, they will be added to the points where the transports will touch.

INSURGENTS AS FARMERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HAVANA, Sept. 30.—Gen. Maximiliano Gomez, in an interview at Camp Rojas, province of Santa Clara, is quoted as saying the insurgent forces will disband and apply themselves to farm labor as soon as the Spanish troops evacuate the island. The Spanish steamer Alicante sails for Spain today. She will carry 123 boxes of military archives.

LIKES OUR BUGLES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

Spain Orders Twenty-five Thousand from a Paris Firm.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Spain has apparently become convinced that there is something magnetic in the bugle used in the American army, for orders have been issued to discard the antiquated instrument used by the don's forces in the war, and to replace them with trumpets of the regular pattern adopted by the United States. A firm in Paris, which has just delivered 20,000 trumpets ordered for by the New York City government, has received an order to furnish 25,000 trumpets of the same size, style and key for the use of the Spanish army. The firm has been ordered to deliver the trumpets at the order has been placed in France.

The trumpet used here is of a pattern adopted May 2, 1892, and is described as follows: Each trumpet to be built in the key of G, the slide to be F, and the mark stamped with the letter F at the correct point to produce the letter F. The bugle calls of Shafter's army are said to have been plainly heard by the Spanish troops in their entrenchments at Santiago long before the American troops were visible.

It is said the use of trumpets of the same key by opposing armies might lead to confusion. In the early days of the Cuban conflict with Spain, captured trumpets were used by the Cubans to lead the Spanish into ambush, and one time a bugler concealed in the bushes succeeded in causing two Spanish columns to fire upon each other. No objection was offered by the officers at the army building here, when they were informed of Spain's order, the only comment being that Spain had evidently begun the equipment of her army.

LEE FOLLOWS WHEELER.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The War Investigation Commission today decided to ask Gen. Lee to follow Gen. Wheeler in giving testimony concerning the charges made against the War Department, and named Wednesday of next week as a date when he could be heard. Gen. Wheeler will be before the commission on Tuesday, and will be interrogated both about Camp Wikoff and the charges made against the War Department.

The commission today continued its examination of letters bearing upon charges of mismanagement—some calling attention to the charges made against the War Department, and others attempting to refute them. Many of the letters referred to newspaper reports of abuse and, in most of these cases, the letters were signed by editors in question, asking them for specific information. Among other newspaper publications considered, an editorial in the New York Evening Eagle, making various charges concerning the abuse of sick soldiers by subordinate officers and referring especially to the death of Lieut. Lafferty, under the head of "Medical Murders: Their Victims and Their Causes," was considered.

The secretary was instructed to send an especially prepared letter to Hon. St. Clair McElwain, the editor of the Eagle, reading as follows:

"I am directed by the presiding officer to ask you whether you have any facts within your personal knowledge upon which you have based the charges set forth in that article, and whether you will oblige the commission by furnishing them with those facts in compact and explicit form. The commission would be glad to have testimony of a kind that can be used in this investigation, not only relative to the circumstances attending the death of Lieut. Lafferty at Camp Wikoff, as alleged in the article under consideration, but also relating to the other incidents to which you make reference. Such testimony is exactly what the commission needs, and you will oblige this body with what you have at your disposal or can obtain for the purpose."

Today's letters especially deal with the conditions at Camp Wikoff. They relate to the lack of preparation of the camp before the soldiers were received. A minister wrote that he had pointed out the inadequacy of the exposed condition of the location and the poor condition of the water before the place was selected. The members of the commission express their determination to make a complete inspection of affairs at that point and will visit the place before completing their work.

CABINET MEETING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

Secretary of State Hay Present for the First Time.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Cabinet meeting today was devoted largely to matters of detail in connection with the formation of the army, which is to be sent to Cuba. Reports were read to the effect that by October 15 the danger of yellow fever will have passed, and it is understood that the movement of troops will be begun about that time.

The conduct of the Spanish customs officers at Havana is very unsatisfactory to the president, and it is said to have been decided to take possession of the customhouse there at an early date and administer its affairs under regulations to be prescribed by this government. Information has reached the president that the Spanish authorities at San Juan recently took possession of and sent to Spain about $40,000 belonging to the Cuban government of school teachers. This matter has been the subject of a protest sent to the Spanish government. It is said to be the purpose of this government to compel its return if possible, and if not, vigorous measures will be taken to collect it from the persons responsible for its misappropriation.

Secretary Hay attended the Cabinet meeting for the first time today, and is said to have made a very favorable impression on his colleagues. There was also some consideration of the subject of mustering out a comparatively large number of general officers of the volunteer army, to meet the needs of the regular army already ordered. This subject, as well as other military matters, kept Secretary Alger in conference with the President for three-quarters of an hour after the rest of the Cabinet had left. The instructions given to the two commissions now sitting in the West Indies provide, it is said, for the actual occupation of Porto Rico in advance of Cuba.

HAY TAKES OATH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Col. John Hay was sworn into office as Secretary of State at 11 o'clock today. The ceremony took place in the President's room at the White House. The oath was administered by Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court. Secretary Hay then joined his colleagues in the Cabinet session.

AT HIS DESK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Mr. Hay entered actively into the discharge of the duties of his new office as Secretary of State today. During the afternoon he received the heads of bureaus, clerks and other employees of the department, in many cases renewing acquaintance with them. He was also met by the assistant Secretary of State many years ago. Although no appointment has yet been made, it seems to be settled that Spencer Eddy, who was Mr. Hay's secretary in London, will be his private secretary in the State Department.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A dispatch to the Standard from Moscow says: "United States Minister Eddy, who was Mr. Hay's secretary in London, will be his private secretary in the State Department."

LOVE'S LABOR LOST.

Ferdinand Walters's Home Burned on His Wife's Birthday.

The home-coming of Mrs. Ferdinand Walters today, instead of the festive occasion that had been planned by her husband, will be one of sorrowing. Their comfortable home at No. 2324 West Seventh street, was utterly destroyed by fire about 2:15 o'clock this morning, under circumstances which make the loss most regrettable.

Today is Mrs. Walters's birthday, and it was planned to give a little party in honor of the occasion. Mrs. Walters has been at Long Beach, but is to return today. Mr. Walters proceeded yesterday to beautify their home with decorations, and had succeeded, after toiling late into the night, in making the interior artistic with festoons of vines and other green stuff, and bunting. Leaving the house he went to the wellhouse caught fire, and his horse and on his return found the cottage in flames. As soon as possible an alarm was turned in from box No. 147, at the corner of Alvarado and Seventh streets, but the cottage was doomed, and Mr. Walters had the grief of seeing his efforts of love wasted in the ashes of his home.

He is unable to account for the fire except on the theory that some of the decorations fell from the ceiling onto the gas jets where they ignited and, falling to the floor, set the parlor on fire. The cottage was a four-room structure, and was entirely destroyed with its contents. Mrs. Walters's wardrobe, entailing a loss of about $3000, to cover which there is an insurance of only about $1200. But Mr. Walters feels most deeply the fact that his wife's birthday should be the day of his disaster.

Hip Disease

Little Girl the Victim—She Took a Few Bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Was Cured.

"My little girl became afflicted with hip disease when she was five years old. She was confined to her bed and for six or seven weeks the doctor applied weights to the affected limb. When she got up she was not able to walk across the floor. She had lost all her strength and day by day she became thinner. One day I happened to receive one of Hood's Sarsaparilla Calendars and on one of the slips was a testimonial telling of a cure of a severe case of hip disease by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I decided to give this medicine to my daughter and when she had taken three bottles her appetite was excellent and she looked quite well and was very much strengthened. She has not used her crutches for over eight months and walks to school every day."

HAD A CLOSE CALL.

Steve Finnegan Was Getting His Irish Up With Every Round That the Two Fought.

REFEREE CALLS IT A DRAW.

AND THE ITALIAN KEEPS THE BANTAM CHAMPIONSHIP.

Fourth Day's Racing at Newmarket. Proceedings to Forfeit Hawthorne's Charter-Foul at Newport.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The bantam championship of America still belongs to Caspar Leon, the Italian boxer of this city, but he had a close call in the twenty-five-round bout with Steve Finnegan of Philadelphia, before the Lenox Athletic Club tonight. These two lads met at 105 pounds, and put up a bout which was one of the liveliest and cleverest contests which has taken place in this arena.

Toward the close of the fight the stiff pace told on Leon, while the Philadelphia showed little signs of distress. In fact, Finnegan seemed to grow stronger toward the conclusion of the bout. The referee satisfied the majority of those who witnessed the contest when he declared the bout a draw, as neither had gained a material advantage.

CORBETT WAS AVARICIOUS.

"Kid McCoy's" Manager Has Some Telegrams to Show It.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Kid" McCoy's manager, W. B. Gray, today gave out for publication some correspondence between the Hawthorne Athletic Club and Corbett with reference to a division of profits accruing from the picture machines. There is also a letter showing the former champion is to receive 12 1/2 per cent of the gate receipts above the first $25,000.

"I have also in my possession," said Gray to the reporter, "three telegrams from Corbett to Considine, asking for $2500. The telegrams were sent from San Francisco by Corbett to Considine, who handed them to me and requested that I get the money from the club's treasurer, if possible. These will prove that he has been more anxious to get money than to meet the 'Kid.'"

SLAAN GETTING THERE.

His Victories at Newmarket Yesterday Caused Great Cheering.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LONDON, Sept. 30.—[By Atlantic Cable.] At the fourth day's racing of the first October meeting at Newmarket today, a selling plate of 200 sovereigns for three-year-olds and upward, was won by the six-year-old brown gelding Eau Gallie, by Iroquois, out of Duchess. The four-year-old bay colt, the Wake, ridden by Tod Sloan, the American jockey, finished second. Four horses ran.

Sloan won the Brothby Welter Handicap of five sovereigns each, for three-year-olds, on the Lorrilard-Beresford Stable's four-year-old chestnut gelding Draco. The betting was 5 to 4 on Draco.

Sloan also won the Scarry Stakes, a handicap of five sovereigns each, for three-year-olds, on the Lorrilard-Beresford Stable's bay gelding Manatee. The betting was 5 to 4 against Manatee.

SLAAN'S OTHER VICTORIES. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, Sept. 30.—Sloan added the Rous Memorial Stakes for two-year-olds to his list of victories today, piloting Sir R. Waldie's Griffling's brown filly, Land Rail, in first. Three horses ran. The betting was 1 to 2 against Land Rail.

An all-aged selling plate of 102 sovereigns was also won today, on the Lorrilard-Beresford Stable's bay gelding Libra. The betting was 4 to 1 against Libra.

Sloan crowned his surprisingly large number of winning mounts today by taking the Newmarket St. Leger Stakes for three-year-olds, with Sir J. Miller's colt Galashiel. Three horses ran. The betting was 7 to 4 against Galashiel.

In the Rutland Stakes, Sloan rode the Lorrilard-Beresford stable's colt Boomor, but failed to get a place, this being the only race out of the seven events in which he had a mount he did not lead his horse either first or second.

Sloan's successive wins were greeted with immense enthusiasm by the spectators, the crowd cheering itself hoarse as the American jockey brought home mount after mount a winner.

Sacrificed to Blood Poison.

Those who have never had Blood Poison can not know what a desperate condition it can produce. This terrible disease which the doctors are totally unable to cure, is communicated from one generation to another, inflicting its taint upon countless innocent ones.

Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. The little one was unequal to the struggle and its life was yielded up to the fearful poison. For six long years I suffered untold misery. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and no language can express my feelings of woe during those long years. I had the best medical treatment. Several physicians successively treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. We got two bottles, and I felt hope again revive in my breast—hope for health and happiness again. I improved from the start, and a complete and perfect cure was the result. S. S. S. is the only blood remedy which reaches deep-seated cases.

BOXING AT 'FRISCO.

Stelzner Fares Badly at the Hands of Kennedy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Stelzner-Kennedy bout at Woodward's Pavilion tonight was awarded to Kennedy at the end of the twentieth round. The fight was interesting from start to finish. Kennedy rushed his man frequently, and only Stelzner's ring experience saved him, and especially in the nineteenth round, when he went down twice. Stelzner used his left to good effect, and scored some heavy blows on head and face, but Kennedy withstood every onslaught. In but three rounds Stelzner had the advantage. The decision of the referee was cheered by the crowd.

The first preliminary contest was between young Peter Jackson of Denver, and Phil Green of the Eighth Regiment. The contest up to the sixth round was fast, Green having all the best of it. Then the negro deliberately fouled the soldier and the referee gave the fight to Green.

The La Rue-Corrigan match was a farce. La Rue being given the decision on a foul in the ninth round.

Proceedings to Annul Hawthorne's Race Track Charter Go On.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Judge Waterman today declined to vacate the order granting permission to file information against the Chicago Racing Association, operating the Hawthorne race track, against which quo warranto proceedings have been brought looking to a forfeiture of the association's charter on the ground that its provisions had been violated. In his decision Judge Waterman spoke bitterly on gambling, including in his denunciation not only the race-track, but the Board of Trade and its operators.

The decision is looked upon as a knock-out blow to the Chicago Racing Association, and as a victory for John Brenock in his fight with Edward Corrigan. Brenock was one of the organizers of the Hawthorne track.

MURDER AT FOLSOM.

ONE CONVICT KILLS ANOTHER IN THE PRISON.

Jacob Oppenheimer Commits a Dastardly Crime With Walter H. Ross, His Victim.

HAD BEEN PAIS TOGETHER.

BUT HAD BLOOD EXISTED AND SOME WAS SPILLED.

Democratic Committee Meeting—Supreme Court Favors the Fusionists—Charges Against a Pastor. A Seducer Killed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—A deliberate, cold-blooded murder took place shortly after 12 o'clock today in the penitentiary at Folsom. There have been fights among the prisoners before, but this was the first convict ever killed there by a convict.

Shortly after the prisoners had been marched in from the quarry and while they were awaiting orders to go into the dining-rooms, a convict named Jacob Oppenheimer, walked up behind Walter H. Ross, another convict, there one arm around his neck and with his other hand stabbed Ross several times with a sharp-pointed knife, that had been made from a file. Turner Hager and another prison officer who were standing nearby, at once seized Oppenheimer and disarmed him and then locked him in his cell. Ross lived less than one hour after he had been stabbed. Coroner Clark was at once notified and will go to Folsom to hold an inquest tomorrow.

FUSION WING WINS.

Supreme Court Reverses a Decision Rejecting Their Ticket.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Supreme Court this afternoon handed down a decision reversing the decision of the State Board of Elections, rejecting the ticket nominated by the fusion wing of the Populist party, and giving a place on the official ballot, under the party designation of the "People's Party," to the ticket nominated by the middle-of-the-road Populists, who bolted from the official convention.

The contents of the two sides to this controversy were heard when the matter came up the other day on a writ of mandamus to the State Board of Elections, at the instance of the managers of the Populist (fusion) State organization, who argued that the middle-of-the-road men had been placed in the original convention and then gone off and nominated a ticket contrary to law. They also set forth that the fusion convention was held in violation of the regular call issued by the proper authorities.

Secretary Brown will now have to recognize the fusion ticket as the People's Party, and the middle-of-the-road men will have to get on the ticket by petition, if at all.

SHANAHAN IS PROUD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—T. W. H. Shanahan, nominee for Governor of the middle-of-the-road Populists, was to have spoken in this city tonight, but after the decision of the Supreme Court against his party he declined to go, and the meeting was not held. When asked if he would withdraw from the contest he replied: "I would not go on the ticket by petition. It would have to be done under a name other than the People's party designation. I will not permit my name to be used in that manner."

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE.

Honey Sat Upon—Tarpey Denounces the "One Hundred."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Democratic State Central Committee met this afternoon in regular monthly session. More than the usual interest was attached to the meeting because of the fact that the appeal of Francis J. Heney from the action of the County Committee on various matters would come up for hearing. Heney objected to the manner of organizing the municipal convention, and in that body appeared as an obstructionist to the program. He was overruled at all points, and appealed to the Campaign Committee, which body referred his appeal to the State Committee.

M. F. Tarpey offered a series of resolutions denouncing the action of the Committee of One Hundred in having resolved itself into a county convention, and, in contravention of all Democratic principles, having proceeded to nominate city, county and legislative officers.

Gov. Budd said that he thought that the point was well taken. It was suggested that the Executive Committee be instructed to take action and report thirty days after election. This was embodied in the motion, and was carried. The committee then adjourned.

THE TEMPLETON FIRE.

Over Four Hundred Thousand Dollars' Loss Due to Incendiary.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN LUIS OBISPO, Sept. 30.—Templeton was visited by a disastrous conflagration last night. About 12 o'clock a fire broke out under Jim Cooley's saloon, and destroyed a whole block, leaving nine houses in ashes. The people busied themselves in removing the contents of buildings and in this they worked to good advantage in many cases.

The losses are: H. Peterson, hardware, loss $400,000; insurance, $250,000; on stock; $150,000; Jim Cooley, saloon, about $500; no insurance; building owned by Tom Malcomson; loss, $100,000; with $200 insurance; Miller's saloon, loss, $500; insurance, $200; Claughton's restaurant, loss, $200; no insurance; Postmaster Whitney's loss on his stock of goods was about $200; no insurance; building belonging to the Southern Pacific Milling Company; insured for $200; loss $600. This company also owned the Good W. Templeton's Hall, which was a total loss, as was also Odd Fellow's Hall, making a total loss of about $420,000. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

GOLD AND FURS.

The Leelanaw Arrives Laden With a Rich Cargo.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The steamer Leelanaw arrived from St. Michael today with nearly one hundred and fifty passengers, many of whom are miners. It is impossible to estimate the amount of gold and drafts brought down by the passengers as most of them refuse point-blank to state their wealth. Among her passengers was United States Collector Ivey, who returns to this country for the winter. The miners complain bitterly against alleged overcharges on the part of Canadian officials, the 10 per cent. clause being the chief bone of contention. The miners say there will be much suffering at Dawson this winter. The Leelanaw was rich in furs. She had on board from St. Paul 15,850 seal skins, and 157 blue fox skins. From St. George she carried 2182 seal and over 2000 valuable fox furs. At Dutch Harbor 25 fine seal otter skins were put on board.

END OVEREND.

Minnie Campbell's Victim Released from His Dungeon Cell.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Supreme Court today ordered the release of Alfred Overend, who has been confined in the County Jail on an order adjudging him guilty of contempt of court.

WIDDER'S CONFESSION.

Held not to Be Admissible in Transcript Form.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—Judge Carroll Cook decided today that the confession of ex-Treasurer Widder was not admissible in transcript form, but that it could be presented to the jury by placing the stenographer on the stand and allowing him to testify with the aid of his notes. Judge Cook stated that when the confession was introduced he would instruct the jury to consider the circumstances in which it was made, and to give it such weight as they deemed proper. He also called attention to the fact that the stenographer, Murphy, could not be found when called to the stand, and the case was then continued until next Monday morning.

REPORTS OF PASTORS.

Methodist Woman's Home Missionary Society Elects Officers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] OAKLAND, Sept. 30.—The morning session of the conference of the Methodist Church (South), was devoted to hearing the reports of pastors. Foreign missions were discussed in the evening. The Woman's Home Mission Society elected the following officers: President, Mrs. D. M. Morris; vice-presidents, Mrs. J. D. Storn and Mrs. M. K. Wilson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. B. Williams; treasurer, Mrs. M. C. Squires; editor, Mrs. J. E. Squires; recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Davis; district secretaries, San Francisco, Mrs. P. Oppenheimer; Santa Rosa, Mrs. J. E. Squires; Merced, Mrs. L. J. Maddox; Fresno, Mrs. W. F. Coffin; Colusa, Mrs. Martha Weeks.

SECTION-HAND KILLED.

Struck by a Switch Engine in the Yards at Sacramento.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—An old man named William Whelan, a section hand in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, was struck by a switch engine in the railroad yards this morning and instantly killed. His body was frightfully mangled. The old man had stepped out of the way of one engine, but was struck by one coming from an opposite direction on another track. The only known relatives he had in this country is a nephew employed as a janitor in the San Francisco City Hall.

SEDUCTOR KILLED.

Ramon Valencia's Refusal to Marry His Victim Settled Him.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] PHOENIX, Sept. 30.—Ramon Valencia, seducer of the young daughter of Jose Parra, was killed by her father tonight. Parra had gone to Valencia to ask him to marry his victim. Valencia refused and Parra shot him through the heart. He then came to town and gave himself up.

Texas Fever at Sulism.

SUISUN, Sept. 30.—In the vicinity of Sulism, a fresh case of Texas fever have broken out among the cattle this week. Another outbreak is feared, however, and stockmen will form a permanent organization, not only to arrest the progress of the present scourge, but to prevent the epidemic from again being brought into Solano county. Dr. Charles H. Blumer, United States Inspector of Cattle for all the territory west of the Mississippi River has been in the county this week inspecting the herds. It is reported that some cases of Texas fever have appeared in the eastern part of the county. One prominent stockman has made arrangements to dip his cattle in a certain solution, the process being one that has been successfully resorted to in infected districts in Southern California.

Dr. Briggs Blames Tobacco.

OAKLAND, Sept. 30.—Rev. Dr. R. J. Briggs, whose trial for immorality is in progress, today closed his case by a committee of the Methodist Church, South conference, declares that his arraignment is due to an alleged widespread difference of the duties between those claiming to possess the "first" and "second" blessing. Those who testify to the possession of the "second" work of grace are charged with being against the use of tobacco, hence the trouble, according to the doctor. It is understood that a large number of letters said to be incriminating are in the hands of the committee.

Not the Place They Thought It.

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.), Sept. 30.—The barkentine J. A. Falkner, arrived today from Kotszebu with fifty-seven disappointed Klondikers.

Shot the Strange Man.

REDDING, Sept. 30.—Albert Thomas, a farmer residing fifteen miles from here, was returning home yesterday, and seeing a strange man leave his house, deliberately shot him. The wounded man, who will probably die, gives the name of W. Doughton. He was left lying in the sun most of the

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

WAS IT A SCHEME?

ORDINANCE FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT BONDS CHANGED.

THE DOW ROBBERY TRIAL TO END THIS MORNING.

A Constitutional Amendment Being Criticized by School Teachers.

Injunctions Issued Against the City.

It has been discovered that the ordinance calling the election for fire-department bonds does not contain what it was supposed to have contained, in that one engine-house which had been included in the list of those proposed was left out of the ordinance without the knowledge of the Councilmen. The provision for the improvement of the fire-alarm system was also left out. The discovery has caused a stir among certain city officials, and it will be looked into by a committee of the City Council.

At a special session yesterday the City Council adopted an ordinance extending to January 1 the time limit for the completion of the underground conduits.

A statement of the assessments against the railroads in this city has been made to the Council by the City Assessor. The total amount of the assessments is $181,049.

The first quarterly reports of city departments to the City Auditor are due today, this being the first day of the second quarter.

The Board of Public Works has been trying for a week to decide what they will do with the matter of the proposed extension of the plant of the Los Angeles Soap Company. Yesterday morning a score or more protesters were heard in the matter. It was taken under advisement by the board.

When Judge Oster made the five orders of court which determined at this preliminary stage the status of the water companies, the issuance of injunctions restraining the city from interfering with the water corporations was made contingent upon certain undertakings being filed. Some days ago the water companies filed these undertakings, in the respective sums of $5000 and $50,000, and yesterday the injunctions were issued. Some days ago the water companies were served upon the city and the members of the City Council.

Inasmuch as the issues involved in the suit brought by the city against the defunct old soldiers are of the utmost importance, the hearing of the arguments on demurrer, which will really raise all the important points, was yesterday continued until Monday, that the judges of the Superior Court may have time to pass upon the matter. The suggestion that this course should be taken was made by Judge Allen, and was readily acquiesced in by counsel representing both sides of the case.

MAY CAUSE A ROW.

DISCOVERY OF A CHANGE IN THE FIRE BOND ORDINANCE.

What the Effect Will Be—Conduct Limit Extended Ninety Days—An Investigation of Orders—City Railroad Assessments Announced.

That there would be some differences of opinion and some consequent difficulty between interested persons and officials in the work of improving the fire department with the money to be secured from the sale of the fire-department improvement bonds, has been taken for granted ever since it was known that the bonds were to be issued. It was not expected that there would be any serious differences between those who will control the distribution of the funds or have an influence in their distribution. A discovery was made yesterday, however, which promises to cause a quarrel of no small proportions and which is almost certain to call for an explanation, to say nothing of the row which the matter is to be made at once, in fact it has already begun and is a quiet way. Nothing is expected to come of it which will cause any scandal, however, for the proceedings are so particular that it was supposed to be. It is not asserted by any person as yet that there was an Ethiopian in the fire department work pile in this instance, but the discovery is anything but pleasant to a number of the city officials, and a careful examination into the matter is to be made at once, in fact it has already begun and is a quiet way. MAGUIRE'S EXPLANATION.

In the esteemed Herald of yesterday morning appeared the following:

"Our Republican contemporary, the Times, started something of a fiasco yesterday by proclaiming that Judge Maguire is sending out under his frank, copies of his speeches on the single tax for campaign purposes. The inference drawn by our neighbor was that these documents must be going out in vast quantities; that they are probably not the output of the government printing office, and that Congress-man Maguire must be abusing his franking privilege.

"Thinking the best way to settle this little nightmare was to go directly to headquarters with it, the Herald wired an inquiry to Judge Maguire and received the following response:

"SANTA ANA, Cal., Sept. 29, 1898. "Herald, Los Angeles, Cal.: Pamphlet in question, like any other public document, is franked to those who want it; not being sent out as a campaign document."

"It will be distinctly noted that neither the Herald nor Mr. Maguire explains the points raised by THE TIMES. Another attempt at explanation, on Mr. Maguire's part at least, is in order, and must be made before this matter can be rendered clear.

"Some of these 'public documents' bear the San Francisco postmark. Is it possible that Mr. Maguire is transacting his 'public business' from San Francisco, and is using his Congressional frank for that purpose? If not, what other explanation can he offer? And if so, has he the right to frank his mail from San Francisco, or from any other city than Washington, D. C.? THE TIMES is not quite clear on this point, and awaits an explanation from Mr. Maguire.

"Then, again, the envelopes mailed from San Francisco, purporting to be franking envelopes furnished to Congress-man Maguire by the government, contain printed matter on the upper left-hand corner, differing materially in text and typography from the printed matter on the regular franking envelopes furnished by the government. Some of the type, however, is of the same style as that used by the government, and is a general way there is conformity to the style of the government printing office. Will Mr. Maguire explain whether the envelopes and matter franked from San Francisco under his name were all printed in Washington? And if so, how does it happen that the printed matter on the envelopes differs from that printed on envelopes known to have been furnished by the government?

"Again: Mr. Maguire says that 'the pamphlet in question, like any other public document, is franked to those who want it.' By this statement it is evident that Mr. Maguire intends to convey the impression that this single-tax pamphlet is sent out to those only who ask for it. THE TIMES is in a position to declare that in some instances, at least, documents of this kind have been sent to persons here who not only have never asked for them, but who do not want them. We have no precise means, at present, of ascertaining the number of single-tax pamphlets thus sent out, but we hope to obtain further data on this subject before the close of the campaign. Meantime, in view of the fact that these single-tax speeches have been sent out from San Francisco apparently at random, in some cases, under Mr. Maguire's frank, the inference is fair that considerable numbers of them have been thus sent to persons who have made no request for them.

"It is a singular coincidence, to say the least, that single-tax literature has also been sent out, uncollected, under the frank of ex-Congressman Tom L. Johnson of Ohio. Mr. Johnson went out of Congress on March 4, 1895. Is his frank still alive? If not, how is it that franking envelopes bearing a facsimile of his autograph are still extant, and are being used for the circulation of literature favorable to Mr. Maguire's campaign? Can Mr. Maguire explain this matter? Will he maintain that ex-Congressman Tom L. Johnson's frank is being used in the regular way? If this single-tax literature is not sent out for campaign purposes, why is it sent out, uncollected, and apparently indiscriminately, at this time? This is the way campaign literature is usually distributed. Perhaps Mr. Maguire can explain why his frank is in so great demand in the pending campaign. A similar explanation regarding the frank of ex-Congressman Johnson of Ohio would also be very acceptable.

THE TIMES again invites all persons who have received these precious documents, under the frank of Congress-man Maguire or under that of any other Congressman or ex-Congressman, dead or alive, to send or leave the same at this office, for purposes of comparison and analysis. In response to our previous request several such documents were received, but THE TIMES thirsts for more information on this important subject. There are several back numbers yet to hear from, and THE TIMES especially requests its friends to be as expeditious as possible in sending in such campaign literature as they may have received recently under cover of Congressional franks.

THE EVE OF PROSPERITY.

It is encouraging to note that the commercial bodies of Los Angeles take a very encouraging view of the immediate future of this city and section. The Chamber of Commerce has recently issued for circulation at Omaha, a new edition of a pamphlet on Los Angeles city and county, which has already been widely circulated. The Merchants and Manufacturers' Association has also issued a statement, calling attention to the opportunities for investment which exist here. In the Chamber of Commerce pamphlet attention is drawn to the exceedingly hopeful outlook for the immediate future. The effects of the recent dry season have not been anything like so disastrous as was anticipated. High prices are now being received by our growers, for products of almost every description. The Dingley tariff insured a good price for citrus fruits, and for deciduous fruits there has been growing up a very active demand, especially in Germany.

Another important industry that has brought millions of dollars into this section during the past few years is the production of petroleum, which has not only given us a large cash income, at a time when it was particularly needed, but has also greatly stimulated the manufacturing industry in this section. At the same time, mining for precious metals has been actively carried on, and with most encouraging results.

The improvement of San Pedro Harbor, concerning which so much has been said during the past few years, is now, to all intents and purposes, accomplished fact. We have every reason to hope that this improvement will be followed by other important works at the port of Los Angeles.

The investment of several million dollars of San Francisco capital in our street railway systems is another evidence, if any were needed, that this city continues on the upward path.

A correspondent who has just returned from Omaha sends THE TIMES a glowing description of the Trans-mississippi Exposition, especially of the part which Los Angeles plays at that big show. He says that while he was there an average of 40,000 people visited the exposition, and that over 100,000 are expected on the day that the President is to be there. Mrs. Frank Wiggins, who is in charge of the Los Angeles exhibit, is distributing every day several thousand pamphlets, descriptive of this section, and the visitors still cry for more. It is the general opinion of those who visit the exposition that Los Angeles county 'takes the cake,' even surpassing many of the States.

The Chicago News thinks Col. Bryan's visit to the White House may have been prompted by a desire to see whether it was a good place to live in. The colonel's attack of nostalgia, or something of the sort, after the visit indicates that the colonel would have been very glad to live there.

THE CITY WATER QUESTION.

The settlement of the vexed question between the city of Los Angeles and the City Water Company is progressing much less rapidly than might be wished by those who have the welfare of the city at heart. After a delay of several months from the date of the expiration of the franchise, we have not yet even reached the end of the preliminary stage, namely, the appointment of a third arbitrator, although it is stated that one has been decided upon.

The agreement between the city of Los Angeles and the water company was, on the face of it, a simple business proposition, by which the city leased to the company a portion of the water of the Los Angeles River, owned by the city, for a nominal yearly rental, in return for certain inexpensive improvements to be made by the company, in distributing water to the then small and insignificant pueblo. At the end of thirty years the city was to resume charge of its water and take over the improvements of the company, at a valuation to be agreed upon by three arbitrators. Had the city not grown so amazingly during the past thirty years, the settlement of the question between the city and the water company would doubtless be an easy one; but the water plant of Los Angeles has become an exceedingly valuable piece of property, and will, undoubtedly, be far more valuable in the near future. Consequently, it is not surprising that the water company should not be in over much of a hurry to give up what it holds, until it is forced to. On the other hand, the city has a right to expect that its representatives will use every effort to expedite the settlement of this plain proposition, on the lines of equity and justice.

Meantime, persistent rumors are abroad of the continued activity of a representative of the firm of Kessler & Co., bankers, of New York, who is said to be paying assiduous court to the inmates of the City Hall, and it is reported that another proposition for the acquisition of a franchise by this firm is under consideration. The persistence with which Messrs. Kessler & Co. are 'standing by' the municipal water proposition in Los Angeles, and the apparent amicable relations existing between the firm and the old water company, lend some plausibility to the report that, in case of a deal with the New York firm, the change in proprietorship of the franchise would be little more than a matter of form.

It should not be necessary to remind the members of the City Council of a fact, concerning which they are fully as well informed as THE TIMES, namely, that a great majority of the people of Los Angeles strongly favor the ownership of the distributing system of a water supply which the city already owns. In this last named feature Los Angeles has a great advantage over a majority of other cities, where not only the distributing system, but the water must be purchased. Municipal ownership of water is no new or untried thing. It has been successfully tried in many important American cities. In fact, it may be said to be the rule, rather than the exception, among enterprising American municipalities.

Nor should it be necessary to remind the members of the City Council, that, as THE TIMES has previously observed, in case it should be deemed more desirable to grant a new water franchise, it would be a gross injustice to the city, and, indeed, the height of absurdity, from an ordinary business standpoint, to make such an important deal with the first applicant who happens to come along in possession of assurance and financial backing. In such a case as that referred to, the proper and natural method would be to do as a city does when it desires to dispose of bonds, inviting bids from capitalists in the leading financial centers. Considering the exceptionally high financial standing of Los Angeles throughout the United States—indeed, throughout the world—there is no reason to doubt that a brief advertisement inserted for a few months in the leading financial journals of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, London, Paris, Berlin and Amsterdam would bring us a large number of applications for information regarding the franchise, and quite probably would result in our receiving thereof twice as much as is offered by Kessler & Co., or even more.

However, the idea that the City Council would dream of making a deal of this sort with Kessler & Co., or with any other individual, syndicate or firm, without inviting open competition, is too preposterous to deserve serious consideration. Indeed, such an idea is insulting to the members of the City Council, not only because such procedure would be absurdly unbusinesslike, but because, as we have already said, the people of Los Angeles, with few exceptions, are fully determined to own and control the distribution of their own water, in accordance with the terms of the liberal franchise which expired several months ago.

In a city growing like Los Angeles is, the value of a water system in the near future will be very great. In justice to ourselves, as well as to our descendants, we should own and control that water system. This is the firm opinion of a great majority of the citizens of Los Angeles, and they will not be inclined to regard with patience those who seek to place unnecessary and futile obstacles between them and the accomplishment of their just and reasonable desire.

Prof. Totten says the world will come to an end on the last day of next March. All right, professor, we have our robe hanging on a peg within close reach.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

The treatment which our soldiers have received is not the only question that needs investigation in connection with the war with Spain. When war was declared, it was generally understood that one of the main issues, if not the leading issue, was the inhuman treatment accorded by the Spanish government to the unfortunate reconcentrados, who were being starved to death by thousands. Of late we have not heard much, if anything, of these unfortunate people. A dispatch from New York, published in THE TIMES a few days ago, quoted a prominent Cuban, who arrived in that city, as stating, in reply to an inquiry, that there are no more reconcentrados, meaning that they are all dead—starved to death.

It seems, however, that there must be a few left. Another dispatch, from Matanzas, published in THE TIMES, states that between January and September over 10,000 persons had died in that city, 80 per cent. of whom had expired from starvation alone. The dispatch adds that these miserable reconcentrados lie around in the streets; mothers, half skeletons themselves, crouching over dying children, and begging bread of soldiers, who drive them away, many bodies being gathered up every morning.

This is a shocking and disgraceful condition of affairs. It is discreditable to the United States, and lends support to those who claim that this country did not go into the war with Spain from humanitarian motives.

Who is responsible for this condition of things? The blame should be fixed where it belongs, and without delay.

In a communication to THE TIMES, published a few days ago, a correspondent pertinently drew attention to the fact that active opposition to the Nicaragua Canal enterprise may be expected from one source, namely, the Southern Pacific Railroad, with its attachment, the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, of which Collis P. Huntington has control. The people of this section have won their harbor fight with Mr. Huntington, and, if they are true to themselves, they will have no difficulty in winning this greater contest, in which they will have the active support of millions of American citizens who neither knew nor cared anything about San Pedro Harbor.

The Spaniards propose to be thoroughly equipped for another war with the United States, should an event so unfortunate occur. They have ordered a job lot of trumpets such as those used in the American army. They appear to be under the impression that they were whipped by American signal horns. Anyhow, the music emitted from the ships of Dewey, Sampson, Schley, and the rest, was at times of a wild and raucous character, and had a very depressing effect upon the Spanish mind.

We are not surprised to learn that the Emperor of Japan owes his downfall to the fact that he appeared in a pair of European trousers. No doubt they were cut out with a circular saw and therefore His Highness made such a show of himself that the Dowerg Express had her nerves all unstrung. We frequently see 'panties' in America that fit so badly as to drive the onlooker to the very verge of hard drink.

Aguinaldo continues to distribute proclamations and such things with a lavish hand. They are harmless, and they possess at least one virtue, inasmuch as they help to keep the young man out of mischief. When the time comes for the serious work of determining the future of the Philippines, Aguinaldo will be likely to discover that he occupies a position relatively about as important as that of a flea on an elephant.

Maj.-Gen. Merritt's report of his operations at Manila is concise and directly to the point. Like Dewey, he carried out his instructions to the letter in true American style and spirit. The result is known to all the world—with the possible exception of some persons in the cow counties of the Iberian Peninsula.

Those forest fires in Wisconsin and Colorado are costly far beyond the mere value of the timber and other property destroyed. But they seem to be inevitable under the present lax system of forest protection (so-called). It will be too late to amend this system after all the valuable timber has been destroyed.

The Democrats of New York, through the foolishness of the chairman of the State convention, and through the worse than idiocy of the Committee on Platform, have made Col. Roosevelt's election a dead moral certainty.

FURIOUS FLAMES RAGE.

Colorado Timber Domains Devastated—Rain the Only Hope.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

DENVER (Colo.), Sept. 30.—The weather man can offer no hope for those on the western slope of the mountains who are threatened by the forest fires. There are no indications whatever of rain, and this seems to be the only element able to stay the flames' fury. Throughout Eagle county high winds have prevailed, giving fresh impetus to the forest fires that are devastating the timber domain. In consequence new territory is being devoured. The blaze is rapidly extending along the grand reserve of Girard Mountain, west of Homestead Creek, and from present appearances will sweep the country to Bear Mountain at Manitou.

Back of Minturn to the heads of Willow and Two Elk, the country is devastated, little remaining to feed the flames. From Hoosier Mountain the wind has driven the fire to the edge of Gypsum Creek. The settlers of Upper Gypsum, Gannon, Collins, and others are fighting hard to save their homes and stop its passage across the magnificent forests of West Brush. If it gets into Brush, the finest body of timber in the State is gone. No loss of life has been reported, but several people have lost their homes and their crops. All the game is leaving the country, escaping the smoke and heat of the blazing woods.

Dispatches received here say that Whyte's Peak between North and Middle Park is now a mass of great flames and it is feared they will extend to both those beautiful camping grounds. The fire has already cut a swath thirty-five miles long from the Grand River almost to Dillon in Summit county. The width is as yet unknown. The fire in the vicinity of Whyte's Peak is so bad as to come down a few times, but the smoldering embers may be fanned into an awful conflagration by the slightest wind. At Gunnison, Crested Butte, Wolcott and Glenwood Springs, the fires are still raging. No estimate of the damage to timber and ranches can be given, but it will unquestionably run far into the thousands of dollars.

Resolutions for Open Ports.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The Illinois Manufacturers' Association, at a meeting held at the Union League Club, adopted unanimously resolutions that the ports of all territory formerly Spanish and now in the possession of the United States be permanently opened to the freest possible entry of all products of American industry. The resolutions were adopted after notable men in the business world had discussed the subject thoroughly.

POLITICS.

One by one the roses fall, and one by one the nominees on the county fusion ticket are declining to run. W. Hudson, a Silver Republican, who was nominated for State Senator from the Thirty-eighth District, is the latest who has taken counsel of prudence and decided not to court inevitable defeat by remaining on the ticket. The Republicans of this district nominated A. T. Crier, and his nomination was equivalent to a election.

No one has yet been found to take the place of Capt. Moses Wiley of Soldiers' Home, the fusion nominee for Assemblyman from the Seventeenth District. Edison of Antelope Valley has been strongly urged to run, but he displays a decided aversion to assuming himself upon the altar of fusion.

Several days ago the chairman of the Democratic, Populist and Silver Republican County Committees joined in a published statement that Tremont Cobb, the fusion nominee for Supervisor from the Third District, had not been asked to resign in order that a stronger man might be put up in his place. The gentlemen who made this statement were singularly ill-informed as to the facts. The sentiment against Cobb is very strong, and a concerted movement was commenced to get him off the ticket. Even in the meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee last Tuesday afternoon, a petition was circulated and numerous signatures, having for its purpose the substitution of another candidate in Cobb's place. Adolph Ramish had charge of the petition. A decided obstacle has been discovered, however, in Cobb himself. He has as much hunger for office as J. Noodle Phillips, and has absolutely refused to come off the perch. Under these circumstances apparently nothing can be done, and the chances are now that Cobb will remain on the ticket.

The fact is slowly dawning upon the Populists and Silver Republicans that the only real effort of their Democratic allies in the county fight will be to elect the Democratic nominees. The rest of the ticket will receive only lukewarm support. Hanley is looked up as the strongest man on the ticket, and other nominees will be ruthlessly sacrificed in order to gain votes for him. The Democrats find their fusion allies very useful in pulling the chestnuts out of the fire.

The Ninth Ward Republican Club met last evening, with a large attendance. The annual report was made that Judge J. W. Hendricks is a candidate for the Board of Education, and it was greeted with hearty applause. Brief addresses were made by Herman Lichter and H. J. Shouers, two of the Republican candidates for City Treasurer. A large part of the evening was devoted to the discussion of the new uniformed marching club, which is now being organized. Twenty-seven of those present signified their desire to enroll their names as members of the proposed organization.

George Beebe has announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for City Clerk. He is at present a deputy City Tax collector's office. It is generally recognized that the nominee for City Clerk will have a lively fight on his hands, as Capt. Hance will doubtless receive a renomination from the Democrats. George Beebe is well known and popular, and his friends are confident that, if nominated, he will make a strong record. The only other candidate for the office is George M. Giffen.

The leading candidates for the Republican nomination for City Tax Collector are E. E. Johnson and John Stedman. Both are from the Fourth Ward, and both are employed in the present City Tax Collector's office. Johnson was the Republican nominee for Supervisor in the Fifth District last year, and James Hanley being the Democratic nominee. Johnson was generally believed to be a strong Democratic. Johnson proved to be a popular candidate, for, although defeated, he received a large vote.

John Drain will undoubtedly receive a renomination as Street Superintendent from the Republican City Convention. There are one or two other candidates in the field, but their strength is insignificant. Drain's administration of his office has been free from the scandals that disgraced some of his predecessors. His popularity was amply shown by the large vote which he received in such close touch with the sentiment that governed the late Republican County Convention, which it dismissed all former officials from its ranks. While we believe THE TIMES made a fatal mistake in its position regarding the gubernatorial office, we know that great Journalists and statesmen, and the gentlemen to get into lucrative offices. Again, men who are entitled to the emoluments of office should become successful in business, and, above all, show distinct ability in directing their party toward the conservation of commercial interests and political policies calculated to advance the welfare of the people.

If the objectionable appointees have been misjudged on these points, we cannot hope to deceive Southern California on the subject of business, for no one believes them suitable men to direct a campaign for a great party, and THE TIMES's position becomes unassailable. That paper is in direct line with the sentiment that governed the late Republican County Convention, which it dismissed all former officials from its ranks. While we believe THE TIMES made a fatal mistake in its position regarding the gubernatorial office, we know that great Journalists and statesmen, and the gentlemen to get into lucrative offices. Again, men who are entitled to the emoluments of office should become successful in business, and, above all, show distinct ability in directing their party toward the conservation of commercial interests and political policies calculated to advance the welfare of the people.

A. B. Dessery of the Ninth Ward is making a vigorous fight for the Republican nomination for City Auditor. Mr. Carson, who is now deputy in the County Clerk's office, is also a candidate.

For some time past Republicans of the Second Ward have been strongly urging Councilman Fred Baker to become a candidate for renomination. For business reasons he was reluctant to enter the race. Mr. Baker has made an excellent record in the Council, and there should be no question about his renomination and reelection.

Councilman Toll will have the very unusual distinction of being without any opposition either for renomination or for reelection. There are no other candidates for the Republican nomination, and it is said that the Democrats will not put up any one against him. Mr. Toll has proved a most valuable member of the City Council, and has introduced many economies in municipal affairs. He has familiarized himself thoroughly with the city's finances, and has been instrumental in bringing about many reforms in the expenditure of public moneys.

W. J. Scherer and Dr. Edwards are making an active fight for the Republican nomination for Councilman from the Sixth Ward. The contest promises to be a close one. There are some confident predictions that Scherer will win out. Another candidate, James Jones, is also in the field. The Sixth Ward should go to the polls this year if a strong nomination is made. George Pessell will probably be the Democratic nominee.

The City Fusion Committee is having a hard struggle over the problem of dividing the nominations on the municipal ticket among the three parties. The committee had a meeting last night, and will meet again next week. The nomination of Mayor will, of course, be conceded to the Democrats, but the fusionists are determined to come in for their share of the spoils. The other offices. The Populists expect to name the Councilman from the First Ward, and have selected Milton Carlson, a demagogue of the second stripe, for the place. The Silver Republicans will probably name the fusion candidate for Councilman from the Second Ward. De Garmo being their candidate.

There will be a lively scrap over the nomination of City Engineer. Dockweiler is out for another term, and Ernest Ahs Hagen also wants the job. A good deal of personal feeling enters into the fight.

The Executive Committee of the Democratic, Populist and Silver Republican City Central Committees will meet at the Silver Republican Club this afternoon to discuss the plan of holding a union city convention. The plan proposed is that the delegates from each party shall act together as a single body, in making nominations. The plan meets with many objections, but the Silver Republicans declare that they will not fuse unless a union convention is held.

The fusionists expect to hold a meeting tonight at the wigwag on Broadway, for the purpose of ratifying the county ticket. The Silver Republicans expect to hold a meeting at the same place, and the Democratic State Central Committee, will be present.

The Times' Position.

[AUSA POMOTROPIC.] Several prominent Republican papers are now engaged in the exciting and perilous task of lambasting the Los Angeles Times because the paper has practically withdrawn its support from Henry T. Gage and the State ticket. We do not believe these objectors have come to a realization of the motives that control the policy of the great Los Angeles daily or they would look with more favor upon its position in the present contest. Before the fruit-growers of the Times complained or we wish to state that in the judgment of the writers of the fruit-growers of all parties, the Times has made a grievous mistake in abandoning its first position in favor of a Senator from this end of the State. This position was impregnable, and was supported unanimously by the fruit-growers of all parties. Some time ago the Express polled the country papers on this proposition, and to a unit the expression was favorable toward making the fight for the Senatorial office alone and leaving the gubernatorial question to the people of the entire State. In disregarding this almost universal feeling THE TIMES made an irreparable blunder, and from that time on the situation became loaded with danger to the success of the fusion cause. The Times' discouragement to the advocacy of a strong Senatorial campaign. To those who know so well that neither money nor influence can buy the allegiance of THE TIMES to any proposition, its position is plainly the result of miscalculation—in other words it has inadvertently assumed a position in opposition to the best interests of Southern California, and contrary to public opinion as voiced from horticultural and other non-political sources. To those who claim that THE TIMES has assumed this attitude from sinister motives we will say that they are prejudiced against one of the most able and able journals in the United States, or, like THE TIMES, have lost their bearings and don't know just what to think.

As to the settlement THE TIMES has made upon the appointment of Osborne, Parker and Hinkley upon the State Central Committee, the State Central Committee of the entire justification. We do not disparage the character of these appointments or reflect upon their citizenship in a general way. Nor do we believe THE TIMES attack is made because the gentlemen no doubt made war upon the ambitions of Gen. Otis and helped deprive the government of the services of one man, at least, who would have honored the War Department in the position he sought. Ample objection can be found without resorting to personalities. We do not consider one of the trio possessed of common sense, business sagacity or of the elements of leadership. One of them has been wrong in too many instances of vital importance to be tolerated as a representative of the Republican party in this State. We need only to refer to the strike of 1894; to the harbor question; to the labor troubles in Los Angeles; to the ignoring of public office for national officials; the general shifting to catch the breeze, whether blowing right or wrong, and in such close touch with the gentlemen to get into lucrative offices. Again, men who are entitled to the emoluments of office should become successful in business, and, above all, show distinct ability in directing their party toward the conservation of commercial interests and political policies calculated to advance the welfare of the people. If the objectionable appointees have been misjudged on these points, we cannot hope to deceive Southern California on the subject of business, for no one believes them suitable men to direct a campaign for a great party, and THE TIMES's position becomes unassailable. That paper is in direct line with the sentiment that governed the late Republican County Convention, which it dismissed all former officials from its ranks. While we believe THE TIMES made a fatal mistake in its position regarding the gubernatorial office, we know that great Journalists and statesmen, and the gentlemen to get into lucrative offices. Again, men who are entitled to the emoluments of office should become successful in business, and, above all, show distinct ability in directing their party toward the conservation of commercial interests and political policies calculated to advance the welfare of the people.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Nobody will be surprised that the business men of the Pacific coast are desirous of having that street paved. The wonder is that a movement for this purpose was not started long ago.

If Mr. Bergetresser of New York is here to try to find out why the Southern Pacific Railroad is so unpopular, it ought not to take him long to discover reasons enough for practical purposes. If he wishes to know all the reasons, he has a mighty big job on his hands.

No Rough Riders or minute men were never more ready to meet an emergency than the royal fellows who compose the American Club of Pasadena. In about two hours after Capt. Campbell was notified that an escort was wanted for the speakers at Thursday night's mass meeting he was en route to Los Angeles with sixty men in uniform.

There is reason to believe that this time is not far distant when tobacco culture will become an industry of considerable importance in Southern California. Already successful experiments have been made in San Diego county, and at Downey in this county, and yesterday a gentleman placed on exhibition in the Chamber of Commerce some fine specimens of the weed, that were raised in this city.

"Never in the history of Phoenix," says the Herald of that city, "has the tide of travel set in in this direction so early in the season as it has this year." Houses and rooms for rent are already becoming scarce, the prospects for business are ever better, and products command better prices in proportion to their cost than ever before. All of which make the Phoenixians hopeful and happy.

Valuable donations of text books have been made to the library of the California State Mining Bureau by the Puente Oil Company of Los Angeles and the Union Oil Company of Ventura county. These companies presented the books as a token of their appreciation of the services rendered to the petroleum industry by the researchers of W. L. Watts of the California State Mining Bureau.

Some weeks ago the report came from Arizona that the town of Gila Bend had been wiped out of existence by a cyclone. Since then there has been, therefore, no surprise because nothing has been heard from that place. The first indication that the town is emerging from its ruins has, however, been received at Phoenix in the form of an order for eight barrels of beer. As the Republican remarks, in 1890 eight barrels of beer would not have lasted over night. Gila Bend; nevertheless, this little order is evidence that the vital spark is not extinct. Only live men call for beer.

There seems to be an opportunity for some wealthy man or woman to make a valuable contribution to the cause of science, an incident that will acquire lasting fame by providing for the permanent maintenance of the Mt. Lowe observatory. The atmospheric conditions here are such as to make the opportunities for astronomical work exceptionally good. That Dr. Swift is an astronomer of the first order is proved by his record of 283 nebulae discovered during the last three years. The observatory, with Dr. Swift in charge, would be a valuable addition to Throop Institute, Occidental College or the University of Southern California.

Uncle Sam and Uncle Collis.
Uncle Sam has made another move in his fight to recover the overlapping railroad lands from Uncle Collis. An appeal asked by the government has been allowed in the famous case, No. 134. About thirty-three holders of railroad land restored to the government who claimed to be bona fide purchasers petitioned to be placed in their rights, and the courts declared their title good. The government appeals from this part of the decision, claiming that they are not bona fide purchasers.

A San Diego Bankrupt.
George Henninger of San Diego has filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court setting his debts at $274.05 and his assets at practically nothing. He has a wife and eight children, and household goods valued at $200, on which exemption is claimed.

A CLOSED BOOK.

THE SEVENTH REGIMENT LEFT TO ITS OWN DEVICES.

Chamber of Commerce Withdraws Its Telegram Asking That the Regiment Be Sent to Manila. Senator Perkins Declares That the Prevailing Wish is Disbandment.

"So far as we are concerned, the Seventh Regiment is a closed book," said Gen. Charles Forman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday.

The telegram sent to Adjt.-Gen. Corbin, asking that the Seventh be sent to Manila has been withdrawn, and from this time on the chamber will refuse to do anything whatever in regard to the future of the regiment, whether to have it sent to Asia or to hasten mustering out.

The telegram now withdrawn was sent with the signatures of the presidents of the Board of Trade, the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, upon positive assurance from the officers of the regiment that the privateers wanted to go to the Philippines. As soon as this action was announced telegrams and letters began to pour in from the enlisted men, declaring that they wanted to go home.

Senator Perkins telegraphed to Gen. Forman that he was satisfied that the majority of the regiment desired to be disbanded. That clinched matters, and the Chamber of Commerce washed its hands of the whole affair.

Senator Perkins's telegram was as follows: "SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30, 1898. 'Hon. Charles Forman, president Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles, Cal.: There has been no poll of Seventh Regiment, but from personal interviews with representative private soldiers, different companies, and some officers, including chaplain, I am satisfied that majority of regiment desire to be disbanded. Therefore, think original order War Department will be carried out.'

[Signed] "GEORGE C. PERKINS."

President Forman's request to withdraw his former message was as follows:

"LOS ANGELES (Cal.) Sept. 30, 1898. 'Gen. H. C. Corbin, adjutant United States army, Washington, D. C.: Our telegram the inst. was sent upon the positive assurance of the officers that the rank and file of the Seventh Regiment was anxious to go to Manila. We find that we were misinformed, we wish to withdraw our telegram of the 23d inst.'

THE RIFLE TOURNAMENT.

Contracts Let for Work on the New Range.

The Executive Committee of the Los Angeles Sharpshooters has had the new range at Glassell surveyed and has contracted with French & Reed for the construction of eighty feet of bulkhead to protect the markers. Sergt. Kilpatrick has completed detailed plans of the target frames, and the Perry mill is getting out the lumber according to the drawings. There will be five sets of targets at 200 yards, two at 500 yards and one at 1000 yards. The bulkheads in front of the targets for the protection of markers will be seven feet high and four feet wide; filled with dry sand. Each marker's post will be connected by wire with the scorer's table. A range house and shooting stand will be built close to the railway station. It is expected that the work will be finished in ten days.

The prospects are that the tournament on October 21, 22 and 23 will be well attended. The Azusa Sharpshooters will send two teams to compete in the team contest. The Turners have entered a team headed by Joe Elger, and the Los Angeles Sharpshooters probably will enter five teams. Many other teams from towns in Southern California are expected. The scramble for coupons for The Times' special match goes on merrily and a great deal of interest in that contest is evident. Prizes will be displayed soon in the window of Harper & Reynolds's store on Main street. The list of merchandise prizes is growing. Members who secure such prizes are requested by the committee to report them to H. L. Cornish at Louis F. Vetter's office.

BRAKESUHLER MOURNS

Because Some Heartless Wretch Poisoned His Dog.

An air of gloom pervaded Constable J. Harry Johnston's office yesterday, and his chief deputy, "Fritz" Brakesuhler, mourned and would not be comforted. The cause of his grief was the death of the family dog, which some heartless wretch had poisoned. The animal was a full-blooded fox terrier, and highly prized by its owner. The poor beast died in great agony. Brakesuhler is camping on the trail of the poisoner, and vows that he will wreak a terrible vengeance on the culprit, when he overtakes him.

WHERE WAS HUTCH?

A COUNCILMAN MISSING FROM THE CITY HALL.

Fusion Candidate for Lieutenant-Governor Outrages the Platform of His Party—Draws a Salary from the City and Neglects His Duties for Politics.

July 11, Hutchison absent.
July 12, Hutchison absent.
August 15, Hutchison absent.
August 16, Hutchison absent.
September 12, Hutchison absent.
September 19, Hutchison absent.

Such is the official record from the minutes of the Los Angeles City Council, showing how Edward L. Hutchison, Councilman from the Eighth Ward, has been neglecting the duties for which he is paid a liberal salary by the people of Los Angeles, in order to campaign for his election as Lieutenant-Governor on the fusion ticket. The Populists in their recent county convention at Santa Monica adopted scathing resolutions indorsing the Republican stand that public servants, paid by citizens of all parties, have no right to spend the time which belongs to the people in working for their own personal ends. Hutchison snaps his fingers at the behest of his constituents. While drawing a salary as Councilman he neglects the duties of his office to follow Maguire around the State to solicit votes. There have been seventeen meetings of the Council since July 11. From six of these meetings Hutchison has been wholly absent, last Monday he was present only at the afternoon session, and almost invariably for months past when he has been present at all he has come in very late, but in time to be marked present on the roll. At last he cast aside even the pretence of attending the Council meetings regularly, and applied for a thirty-day leave of absence.

The committee-room has forgotten the sound of Hutchison's voice. The important Land Committee, of which he is chairman, has held no meeting for six weeks, while matters of considerable concern have been accumulating, all because of the dereliction of the Eighth Ward Councilman.

The explicit declaration of the Populist convention against such flagrant disregard of duty, a declaration to which Hutchison has paid no heed, is contained in that party's county platform, and is as follows:

"We heartily commend that portion of the Republican platform which condemns the dishonest practices of public officials, elected by them, who have devoted the time and labor which they are paid to perform to the promotion of their own political schemes. The demoralizing and unjust custom can only be abolished by relieving Republicans of the cares of public office, so that they can follow their inclinations at their own instead of the public expense."

DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED.

A Northhoff Man Procures a Very Expensive Revolver.

When W. C. Slocum returns to his home at Northhoff he will take with him a very expensive revolver, and he will probably know whether it is loaded. Slocum testified in the Police Court yesterday that he didn't know it was loaded when it went off in his hands in the rear of a saloon at Bellevue and Buena Vista streets, Thursday evening.

Slocum is in the city visiting his nephew. He bought the revolver which got him into trouble at a Main-street pawnshop, and, according to his story, he was examining the weapon when it was accidentally discharged in his hands.

Officer Vignes, who heard the shots, arrested Slocum. Three bullets in the board fence surrounding the yard where the shooting occurred, showed that the shots were remarkably well directed, considering that the firing was alleged to have been accidental.

The court found Slocum guilty of carrying a concealed weapon, and ordered him to pay a fine of $15. The fine, added to the cost of the revolver and Slocum's attorney's fees, makes the weapon an expensive one for the Northhoff man.

HIS FURLOUGH SPOILED.

An Old Soldier Has a Serious Bicycle Accident.

D. F. Henning, a veteran of the civil war and assistant electrician at the Soldiers' Home, had his vacation cut short in a most unhappy manner yesterday morning. Henning was away from the home on a thirty-day furlough, and intended making quite an extensive bicycle tour through several of the neighboring counties. He had his camping outfit packed in a bag, which he strapped in front of the handle bar of his bicycle, and was coasting down the Sixth-street hill near Alvarado street, when the front fork of the wheel broke and Henning was thrown over the handle bar, striking on his face. He was rendered unconscious, his right eye was closed, and his face was badly bruised and scarred. The unfortunate man was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Hagan attended to his injuries.

Western Baptists.

The Western Baptist Association, consisting of delegates and representatives from all colored Baptist churches in California, will meet in its seventh annual session, with the Second Baptist Church, on Maple avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets, beginning Tuesday, October 4, at 9 a.m. Rev. J. Whitlock will read the devotion exercise; Rev. W. R. Mitchell of Riverside, the moderator, will call the convention to order; Rev. D. Evans of San Diego will preach the introductory sermon. Tuesday evening a reception will be tendered the delegates by the Los Angeles Ministers' Union. The sessions will continue through the week. A special missionary mass meeting will be held at the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Twelfth and Hemlock, Sunday, October 9, at 2 p.m., at which a review of missionary work will be given, and a special musical programme rendered.

Protection for Trees.

The free and easy way in which the corporations whose electric wires run along the public streets cut away the limbs of trees wherever they interfere with their wires is the subject of complaint in a letter to The Times. The correspondent declares that while private citizens are not allowed to cut down the trees on their own property without a permit from the Council, yet the companies do just as they please, regardless of the protests of property-owners. He thinks that the corporations should be required to place their wires under ground, to use insulated wires which would not interfere with nor be injured by the branches, or that they should at least be compelled to get a permit before cutting away boughs.

IN FIVE ROUNDS.

Ben Lewis Defeats William Kelly at the Manhattan Club.

Ben Lewis of San Francisco defeated William Kelly of San Bernardino, at the Manhattan Athletic Club last night. It was a hammer and tongs affair from the call of time in the first round until the end of the fifth, when Kelly dropped to the floor, just as the decision was given to Lewis. The finish was not a knock-out, for when there remained a half-minute of the fifth round the referee gave the fight to the San Francisco lightweight. Hardly had the result been announced than Kelly fell at full length to the floor and for fifteen minutes his seconds worked with him before they were able to restore him to consciousness.

Kelly is a foul fighter, if his tactics last night are any criterion. He lost no opportunity to take unfair advantage of the Lewis, but the latter rewarded his fouls with well-directed blows on his wind which finished him in short order. Kelly had to be taken to his rooms in a carriage after the fight and a physician was summoned.

Before the Lewis-Kelly mill, Charles Hitt, Chris Schultz, both of this city, attempted to decide personal differences in a ten-round go. There was nothing scientific about the fight, but it was a terrific one. Neither side had the advantage when in the third round Hitt broke his right thumb and gave up the contest.

SIERRA CLUB.

Republicans to March in Navy Uniforms.

A meeting was held last night to organize a Republican uniformed marching club. It was decided to call the organization the Sierra Club. The uniform is to consist of a white fatigue cap, a dark blue military fatigue coat, white trousers and leggings. The trimmings of the uniform will be of red, as are those of the regular army artillery. Meetings will be held in each ward Monday night to enlist members. The committee from the different wards can procure enlistment rolls by calling at room No. 178 in the Hollenbeck today.

The Committee on Organization is as follows: W. R. Leeds, First Ward; G. C. de Garmis, Second Ward; M. C. Fairbanks, Third Ward; H. H. Mayberry (chairman), Fourth Ward; William Knippenberg, Fifth Ward; Joseph Baxter, Sixth Ward; Thomas Strohm, Seventh Ward; W. R. Sergeant, Eighth Ward; L. H. Schwaeb, Ninth Ward.

NEW EVIDENCE FOUND.

Confectioner Julius Thinks He Ought to Have a New Trial.

Sentence of P. M. Julius was yesterday postponed by Justice Morrison till October 4. A few days ago found Julius guilty of intent to defraud creditors, and he was to have been sentenced yesterday, but his counsel filed an affidavit declaring that new and important evidence has been discovered which will put an entirely different aspect on the case, and in consequence of which a new trial is demanded. The District Attorney consented to a continuance in order to give him time to examine the new evidence alleged to have been discovered. Julius was a confectioner, who during last December bought $187 worth of sugar from M. A. Newmark & Co. on credit, and next month went into insolvency. Newmark & Co. charge that he had fraudulent intent when he asked for credit.

A CHUNK OF GOLD.

Weissert Could Not Prove That Claus Stole It.

W. H. Claus, a journeyman watchmaker and engraver, was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Joseph Weissert, a jeweler, who accused Claus with the theft of a piece of gold valued at $400. Weissert alleged that Claus undertook to construct for him an electric apparatus to do gold plating. He gave Claus $5 to buy gold with which to experiment. The apparatus did not work to Weissert's satisfaction, and during a dispute over the affair, Claus is alleged to have run away with the gold that was purchased with Weissert's money. Claus emphatically denied that he took the gold, and it was not found in his possession.

CLAUS'S TRIAL FOR PETTY LARCENY.

Claus's trial for petty larceny in Justice Morrison's court yesterday afternoon resulted in his acquittal.

NURTURED IN CRIME.

Young Garrity Condemned to Jail for Battery.

William Garrity, the young hoodlum who beat an old Frenchman several days ago, because the old man would not give him any money, was sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment in the City Jail yesterday by Justice Morrison. Young Garrity is a son of the notorious pat Garrity and is said to be one of a gang of boys who are in the habit of holding up old and helpless people for their money. Young Garrity's domestic surroundings have been degrading since his early infancy and his penchant for crime is as likely as not hereditary as the most valuable customers the police have had to deal with.

New Era in Medicine.

This tells of a discovery that alleviates suffering and prolongs life. It is inexpensive, effective. Medical science is revolutionized over this, one of the greatest achievements of modern times.

The fact that several dollars spent for the right medicine has effected a cure where a skilled and expensive physician aided by the latest and most ingenious instrument of science, had failed, is a matter of much importance, because it opens to downcast sufferers a new, inexpensive and sure avenue to the restoration of health and the full enjoyment of the pleasures of life.

Such was the experience of Mrs. Ada M. Herr, of 439 North Charlotte Street, Lancaster, Pa.

"I had but little hope for success; but decided to give these pills a trial."

"I took two boxes and was much benefited. After taking six more boxes I was cured. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had done what all the previous treatment had failed to do."

"I am fully restored to health now, and do things that I had hardly dared attempt before."

No discovery of modern times has proved such a boon to women as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, invigorating the body, regulating the functions, they restore strength and health to the exhausted woman when every effort of the physician proves unavailing.

These pills are recognized everywhere as a specific for diseases of the blood and nerves. For paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and other diseases long supposed incurable, they have proved their efficacy in thousands of cases. Truly they are one of the greatest blessings ever bestowed upon mankind.

It seemed impossible to correct or even to check the disorders.

"I had become greatly weakened," said Mrs. Herr, in telling her story to a reporter, "and the awful cramps and the frequency and nature of the fainting spells alarmed me beyond belief and shattered my system."

"I tried electric treatment; it failed, and I did not know where to turn for help."

"A friend told me how her mother had been greatly benefited by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

DESERT MINING.

OUTLOOK FOR A PROFITABLE YEAR OF DEVELOPMENT.

Interest Greater Than for Many Years—Hundreds of Excellent Prospects Being Slowly Developed—The One Great Need of the Deserts is Greater Capital.

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 28.—[Special Correspondence.] It is now evident that the coming year is to be the most active in desert mining that Southern California has experienced. This city, which is the mining center of Southern California, is now outfitting an uncommonly large number of prospectors, while the reports coming in from the back country are most encouraging.

The Randsburg district continues to be one of the heaviest producers, the advent of the cyanide process plant having stimulated production and inspired new interest.

The general verdict is, however, that the next great camp to be established in Southern California will be at the Virginia Dale district. This expectation is an outgrowth of the fact that "the Dale" has the largest number of prospects, rather because of the district's especially brilliant outlook of any particular mine. Yet the district is not without many promising prospects, among those which have been most talked of being the Leota. Some very rich ore was taken from this property, when a tunnel was driven, which failed to reach the same quality of ore, proving something of a disappointment, but not by any means destroying confidence in the property.

Out of the several hundred prospects in the district, fully twenty are being developed as rapidly as is possible with the limited capital of the owners, and shafts ranging from ten to 150 feet in depth are common. Joe Arbois and Mr. Meacham each have small mills doing custom work, while there are several other small mills working on ore from the owners' mines.

Two men with wide acquaintance with desert mining were asked separately what they considered the best district in Southern California. Both replied that the Eagle Mountain was most promising. There are fewer claims than in the Dale, but the Iron Chief and a few other mines are giving it a good record. The Iron Chief has had fifty men at work all summer; has a sixty-ton cyanide plant at work, and has piped water from Cottonwood.

The Pion district is a scene of continuous activity, and a number of properties are producing good ore. The Lost Horse mine is considered one of the best on the desert. It has a ten-stamp mill at work, while two other small ones are running. The district at Oro Grande there is great activity among prospectors, and some good ore is being sent to Barstow.

Good reports, though lacking in detail, are received from the Sacramento, Lone Star, Fremont and other districts.

At Holcomb Valley there is considerable activity.

The Good Hope mine at Ferris is said to be working in a large body of good ore, but the reports are received from the Manifee district.

Such is but a brief indication of the deep interest and bright prospects in mining throughout the desert country, and with it all, there are frequent reports of visits from prominent mining men from Northern California, and other States, with a view to studying the situation, and the possibility of investment.

The one thing needed to make the desert the most prosperous is greater capital. There are hundreds of bright prospects, owned by men of small means, which cannot be worked without a large investment in machinery, and development work.

REYNOLDS (Ga.) Sept. 30.—Gen. John B. Gordon, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, was shown the Associated Press dispatch from Chicago in which Miss Lucy Hill claims to have had the title of Daughter of the Confederacy conferred upon her by her southern friends since the death of Miss Winnie Davis, and was asked if the title could be thus transferred. He replied with great earnestness:

"Emphatically, no. In the very nature of the case, no except Miss Winnie Davis is entitled to be called the Daughter of the Confederacy. That title was unique and peculiarly her own and is very properly to be kept in her tomb. To designate anyone else by that title would be almost a sacrilege. As with Jefferson Davis passed the title of President of the Confederacy, so with Miss Winnie has passed that of Daughter of the Confederacy."

A RAILROAD TOOL.

GEORGE ARNOLD'S SERVICES TO THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Facts and Figures Which Show How He Aided Uncle Collis to Escape Taxation.

GROSS FRAUDS ON THE PUBLIC.

OVER ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS OF TAXES LOST.

Valuable City Property Assessed as Right-of-way at Merely Nominal Figures—Arnold's Alleged
Strength as a Vote-getter.

In a former issue of The Times a short chapter of George L. Arnold's record as a member of the State Board of Equalization was given. In today's issue the subject is continued. The taxpayers of the city and county will find it interesting reading.

When the members of the present State Board of Equalization came into power in January, 1895, they seem to have immediately cast about to devide expedients to relieve the tax-ridden Southern Pacific Railroad of Kentucky of some of its burdens. What genius on the board evolved the scheme of throwing blocks of ten to thirty acres of depot grounds into the right-of-way, and assessing these lands as a single tract at so much per mile, is one of the things no fellow outside of the board can find out.

Whether it was the fertile Morehouse,
the Demo-Pop, Beamer, or the crafty Arnold, or whether the inspiration came from the yellow knocker in San Francisco, it matters not. The scheme was evolved, and speedily put into execution, and by it Uncle Collis, yearly, saves a neat little sum from his taxes
to put where it will do the most good for him.

The railroad organs are, just now,
very industriously publishing columns of figures, that, if correct, would go to show that Mr. Arnold, during his term, has very nearly bankrupted the railroads in his district by taxation. If the figures of the lightning calculators of these organs are correct, and if Arnold should be elected for another term, and should he continue in the course he is said to have been pursuing, the Southern Pacific Railroad will be in the hands of a receiver before the end of his term. The Times proposes to publish some figures that have escaped the notice of Arnold's experts, and, placed on the credit of the railroad account, they may help to save them from threatened bankruptcy. The figures are taken from the Los Angeles city and county assessment rolls.

SAN FERNANDO DEPOT GROUNDS.

The San Fernando depot grounds contain forty-three acres. Under the former State board of equalization the land taken for right-of-way, was a strip 150 feet wide, according to the county assessment roll, 33.62 acres, leaving for assessment 9.38 acres, the assessed value of which was $50,250.

In 1895, the notice of Arnold's administration, the right-of-way was spread over a width of 350 feet, thus taking into the right-of-way 30.164
acres and leaving for assessment 12.8 acres for assessment. The assessed value, according to the methods of Arnold's experts, we have:

Under old board.
1894. No. acres assessed.....33.62
1894. Assessed value.....$50,250
Under Arnold's board.
1895. No. acres assessed.....12.8
1895. Assessed value.....$27,000
Loss to the county.....$23,250
The assessed value of the same property, the City Assessor's books was,
in 1894, $62,639; under Arnold's board, 1895, $32,215; loss on city assessment
roll, $30,415.

ARCADE DEPOT GROUNDS.

In 1895 the right-of-way over the Arcade depot grounds was widened to 250 feet. The county assessment for 1894
and 1895 stands as follows:

1894.
Number acres.....11.80
Right-of-way.....4.30
Assessed value.....7.50
1895.
Number acres.....12.039
Right-of-way.....10.233
Assessed value.....$30,000
Loss from the assessment roll, $23,250
The assessment of this property, remaining of 1.80 acres was reduced in 1897
to $7200, and remains at the same figure in 1898.

The assessed value of the Arcade depot ground by the city in 1894, was $19,380; assessed value of 1.80 acres, 1895, $6500; loss to the city assessment
roll, $12,880.

LA GRANDE DEPOT GROUNDS
(Southern California Railway.)

The right-of-way through the La Grande depot grounds in 1894 was a strip 100 feet wide. No acreage was given in the county assessment roll
for that year (equal to 6-2-3 acres).
The number of acres outside of the right-of-way was 40.5, with an assessed value of $55,000. In 1895 the right-of-way was widened to 300 feet, so that it now covers 21 acres. The assessed value of the remnant in 1895, was $22,000;
loss to assessment roll, $33,000.

The city valued the same property in 1894 at $41,400; in 1895, $30,810; loss
to assessment roll, $10,590.

The assessed value of all the remnants left of the different depot grounds was cut, in the county, 10 per cent. in 1897. There was also a cut in 1898. Taking the average values of these remnants, and aggregating them, we find that Mr. Arnold, and his colleagues on the State board, have from the county assessment roll, $62,639; 175; from the city assessment roll, $52,883;
and from both a grand total of $115,522. The total taxes on this property for four years, at an average rate of $1.25 on the $100, amounts to $46,459.
This represents the "loss" to the city and county, and the consequent gain to the railroads by Arnold's system of expanding railroad rights-of-way.

What the loss has been to other cities and counties of the State is not yet in evidence. If by a few strokes of a pencil-maker's pen the members of the State Board of Equalization can take over $100,000 worth of assessable
property from the tax roll of the city,
they can do the same in other cities and counties when opportunities offer,

and extend it may be done so.

There seems to be no bar to their designating as right-of-way any railroad realty contiguous to the main line of the road, the cost of spreading the right-of-way over thirty acres at the San Fernando depot they can take in the remaining thirteen acres of that tract. It was decided by the committee to extend the right-of-way over the hundred and odd acres of the Santa Fe system lying between First street and the old city limits.

By such a system of expansion, the lands upon thousands of dollars' worth of property values can be expunged from the tax rolls of the cities and counties of the State.

The real motive that actuated Arnold's board to inaugurate this system of expansion does not appear on the surface, but a little investigation will uncover it. Over the thirty acres now included in the right-of-way
at the River station, paralleling the main line, is a gridiron of side tracks. The extension into continuous line would make a single track eight or ten miles long. The Southern Pacific Railroad magnates, fearing that some county assessor would under the control (like Dalton of Alameda, for instance,) might assess the rails and roadbeds of the various side tracks
these not being included in the right-of-way, and that they—the magnates—
would be compelled either to pay tax on a large amount of property that they could not use, or to continue to fight the assessment in the courts.
Therefore, to make it pleasant, and at the same time profitable to Uncle Collis, the railroad magnates, they boarded, and put into operation the right-of-way of the present system of the railroad, and thus place them in the hands of the State board, out of reach of officious county assessors. The expansion of the right-of-way, and the removal of the various side tracks there.

Having granted these favors to the Southern Pacific of Kentucky, they could not well refuse the same to the California road. The Southern California road had managed to worry along for several years with a right-of-way 100 feet wide, and might have continued to do so, had not Arnold's board generously widened it to 200 feet, and taken in 21 acres of their 47-acre tract. No good citizen desiring to see the railroad prosper, and not to see it taxed, would object to just taxation, but every such person demands that they bear their just portion of the expenses of government.

The expansion of the right-of-way inaugurated by Arnold's board becomes more apparent by comparing the assessed value of the large tracts held as right-of-way with the value of abutting lands divided into small lots and owned by private citizens. The taxes paid on the thirty acres of the River station depot is a mere bagatelle.
The length of these depot grounds is 420 feet, or about four-fifths of a mile.
At $5534.44, the rate per mile fixed by the State board in 1895, the assessed value of the thirty acres with the right-
of-way is $235,033.22. The assessed value of the thirty acres with the right-
of-way is $235,033.22. The assessed value of the thirty acres with the right-
of-way is $235,033.22.

AT THE CITY HALL.

VIOLATING THE LAW.

BEGINNING OF A TEST OF THE ORDINANCES.

An Oil Well to Be Drilled Within the Prescribed Limit of a Park.
Circumstances Stand-Condition
of City Funds.

The first step to test the legality of the existing ordinance regulating the oil business in the city has been taken by several oil producers, and unless the City Council adopts a new ordinance which will have the effect of remedy-ing the weaknesses in the present law,
the cases which will grow out of the oil men's action will be taken through the courts. Several days ago it was stated in The Times that the oil producers interested in wells and what was believed to be oil land in the vicinity of Westlake Park intended to test
the law. This was later denied by one of the oil men, who stated that no such step was contemplated. The denial was probably either made through ignorance of the facts, or through a desire to prevent exposure of a violation of the law.

The scheme which is to be tried; in fact, which has already been begun, is to commence the drilling of an oil well within the 1000 foot limit of Westlake Park. This is, of course, a violation of the ordinance, and it is expected that the work will be stopped by the proper authorities. A prosecution under the ordinance will be the result, and thus the case will reach the courts with the oil men as defendants.

Early yesterday morning a force of workmen appeared on lot 17 of block 15 of the Knob Hill tract and began the erection of an oil derrick. The point where the work is being done is well
within the 1000 foot limit of the park.
The derrick is erected there and the drilling of a well commences. It will be a clear violation of the ordinance. The point where the work is being done is well
within the 1000 foot limit of the park.
The derrick is erected there and the drilling of a well commences. It will be a clear violation of the ordinance.

CIRCUS LICENSES STAND.

No Reduction to Be Made in the Fee
for Those Amusements.

There is to be no reduction in the amount of the license which is charged all circuses, which may exhibit in this city, and the petition for such a reduction, filed by the Wallace shows, at the last meeting of the City Council, is to be taken. Just who is behind the test is not known, as the name of the owner of the new well is being kept secret by the men who have been engaged to erect the derrick.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

TO TEST THE LAW.

AN OIL WELL TO BE DRILLED NEAR WESTLAKE PARK.

Work Already Commenced on the Derrick—Street-Sweeping Contractors Qualify.

THE DOW JURY DISAGREE.

CURIOUS CASE ON APPEAL FROM JUSTICE OWENS'S COURT.

Judge Clark Will Pass Upon the Kuns Family Dispute Tomorrow.
Monthly Review of County Officials.

For the purpose of testing the ordinances regulating the oil industry in the city, work has been commenced on an oil well within the 1000-foot limit of Westlake Park by a number of oil producers. This willful violation of the ordinances is for the purpose of securing a prosecution against the city.
The well, so that the question may soon reach the courts.

The licenses for circuses is not to be reduced, and a petition for such reduction made to the City Council will be denied.

The street-sweeping contract has been accepted by Franklin & Alexander,
the successful bidders, and they have filed their bond with the City Clerk.

A curious case involving horse sense
came up before Judge Smith yesterday
on appeal from the City Justice Court.
A defendant was being tried for cruelty to a horse, and Justice Owens allowed the jury to descend to the jail yard and examine the animal. In appealing the point was raised that there was no authority of law for examining a horse, the statute providing for the examination of a dog only.
The jury, in this case, found only "places," this for the reason that in examining a horse the jury received mute evidence that could not be controverted by the defense. The case was then taken to the City Justice Court.

After being out several hours the jury in the Dow case failed to find a verdict and were discharged. Some of the jurors were of the opinion that Dow was not an active participant in the robbery of Darst, and in a large measure this was to be accounted for by the needless complication of the case for the prosecution. The salient features of the prosecution were capable of proof without the testimony of witnesses dragged from the slums.

THE PETITION HAD BEEN REFERRED. There was not much discussion of the subject, the only argument being used against it, being that the circuses which came here carried away more money than they expended, and that there was no present reason why the city should not have the benefit of the licenses which they were required to pay. It was decided by the committee to recommend to the Council that the petition be filed.

The Finance Committee also recommended that the petition of J. T. Cross for a rebate of $5.00 be granted. In the assessment of real property, Mr.
Cross was assessed for certain improvements on a lot near Westlake Park, when, in fact, no such improvements exist.

It was also recommended by the committee that the City Auditor and City Treasurer be instructed to transfer the sum of $7.13 from the tax fund of 1896-97 to the tax fund of 1897-98; $2000 from the tax fund of 1897-98 to the tax fund of 1898-99; $1000 from the Police Station fund to the Internal sewer fund.

ACCEPTED THE CONTRACT.

Successful Bidders for Street Sweeping File Their Bond.

Franklin & Alexander, who were the lowest bidders for the contract for street sweeping, and to whom the contract for that work was awarded by the Board of Public Works, have filed their bond, and their acceptance of the contract with the City Clerk. There has never been any intention on part of the firm to refuse to sign upon the contract, in spite of the fact that their bid was much lower than the City Council expected.

The bond which accompanies the contract is signed by the firm and prin-cinals, and R. H. Howell, Wilson
Housley, J. C. Salsbury and Reese Hewllyn as sureties. The amount of the bond is $5000.

The new contractors have placed an order with an eastern manufacturing company for the delivery to them here
of a number of the best and latest improved street-sweeping machines. It is their intention to give the city clean streets at once, something that has not been had for at least the last year of the present contract. "If we do not give satisfaction," said
John Franklin, a member of the firm,
"we will be willing to forfeit the contract. It is our intention to do this work in the best manner possible, and if the dirt on the streets can be removed we will take it up." The present contract expires late in November.

MAY NOT BE MOVED.

Trouble Over the Macy-street School
to Be Settled.

All bids for the removal of the Macystreet school building which were received several weeks ago, are to be rejected by the City Council. The reason for this is not because the bids are considered too high, but that some other means will probably be adopted for the settlement of the controversy over the present location of the school building. The attention of the City Council was called several months ago
to the fact that this school building had been so erected that a portion of it extended over a public alley. The owners of abutting property complained of the matter, and demanded that the city either buy their lots or move the school, so that they could use the alley.
At that time a refusal was made to do either, and suit was brought to compel the city to vacate the alley. There is no defense that could be offered by the city, and preparations were made for moving the building. Since then other arrangements have been made with the property owners, and the bids for moving the building will not be accepted.

CONDITION OF THE FUNDS.

What is Shown by the City Auditor's
Weekly Trial Balance.

The weekly report of City Auditor T. E. Nichols as to the condition of the city funds, shows an increasing deficit in nearly all the important funds. Among others, the following show deficits in the amounts stated:
Cash, $10,872.88; fire department, $21, 294.18; new water, $152.39; general
park, $1512.31; East Los Angeles Park, $1743.23; Westlake Park, $922.13; Hollenbeck Park, $1312.11; Echo Park, $357.69; Elysian Park, $1872.10; park
nursery, $853.21; street lighting, $4081.19.
Among the funds to the credit of which are cash balances are: Salary, $191,960;
common school, $1810.09; library, $1125.13. The treasurer's balance for the week is $25,983.36.

TO OPEN AN ALLEY.

Property owners in the block bounded by Main, Third, Spring and Fourth streets, have petitioned the City Council for the institution of proceedings for the purpose of having an alley opened in that block. The proposed alley, instead of running straight through the block, will, if it is opened,
have one opening on Fourth street, and the other on Main street. It is requested that provision be made for spaces of sufficient width for vehicles to turn and for wagons to pass in the alley. The matter will go to the Board of Public Works from the Council, because which body it will be presented Monday.

FREE LABOR BUREAU REPORT.

The manager of the Free Labor Bureau has filed his report for September with the City Clerk. It shows that during that month requests were made for the employment of 851 men and sixteen women. Places were secured for 808 men and 14 women.

LOST HIS RECEIPTS.

Superintendent Derby of the outfall sewer, reported at the City Hall yesterday that he had lost his book of receipts, which he issues to those who pay for the use of sewage for purposes of irrigation. He had the receipt book and two other books in his pocket Friday when he started on a tour of inspection of the district supplied by his department. In some manner the books dropped out of his pocket. He found two of them, but the book of receipts was lost. The receipts contained in the book have been cancelled, so that they will be of no use to any person who may find the book. He has been unable to locate the lost book, and has been unable to locate the lost book, and has been unable to locate the lost book.

TO MAINTAIN OIL CABLES.

The Rex Oil Company has petitioned
the Council, for permission to stretch
two oil-pumping cables across New Depot street, between Pearl and Ramona streets, and across Union avenue between First and Arnold, and one across Michigan street, near Bonnie Brae. The reason stated in the petition for asking for the special permission is that the cable plants in the blocks, in which the oil wells are located are about to be removed.

LAT THE COURT HOUSE.

A UNIQUE POINT.

CASE REVERSED BECAUSE A HORSE CAN'T TALK.

How Justice Owens Made a Mistake
In Sending a Jury to Examine a Horse—Mute Evidence Received That Was Not Admissible.

A very odd case came up before Judge Smith yesterday on appeal from the City Justice's Court, and the cross-examination of a horse was one of the funny points raised by counsel for the appellant.

It appeared that on August 23, Daniel McKay was brought to trial and convicted of cruelty to a horse, the offense charged having been committed on August 8. During the course of the trial Deputy District Attorney Chambers moved that the court so order that the jury might be taken to see the horse, and this was done. The jury were taken down into the jail yard, and examined the animal that had been brought from the stables for their inspection. The jury carried away no present himself, the jury being in charge of an officer of the court.

In arguing the appeal yesterday Attorney Hennessey contended that the lower court grievously erred in permitting the jury to go and examine the horse, and while the statute makes essential provision, under certain circumstances, for the jury being taken to examine a "place," no provision whatever is made for a jury being sent to examine a thing animate or inanimate.
And this, for the reason that in such case the jury would be receiving evidence that could not be subjected to the test of cross-examination. If the appearance of the horse carried away
conviction to the minds of the jurors,
the horse itself not being capable of being put through a cross-examination,
the defendant was just as far irrepar-
ably damaged.

In addition to this unique point, counsel also contended that if a jury is sent to examine a thing, it is an absolute necessity that the Judge shall accompany it,
and he was proceeding to cite authorities when Judge Smith cut him short and asked the Deputy District Attorney James what he had to say in answer to the points that had been raised. Mr.
James confessed that the mode of proceeding was open to criticism, but that he was not prepared to contend that the horse was in better condition
when the jury saw it than at the time of the defendant's arrest, his interests had not in any way suffered. Judge Smith, however, was not inclined to stretch the law so far, as that, and stated that he had very grave doubts
whether a jury should be sent to examine a thing in any case at all. Without definitely ruling on the other points, the court reversed the judgment, and the defendant will now have a new trial.

TO DIVIDE PROPERTY.

The Kuns Differences to Be Aired in Court Tomorrow.

The Kuns case will come up before Judge Clark tomorrow in the probate department of the Superior Court, and is to be keenly contested. The family has occupied a prominent social position at Santa Monica, and as an appeal is now being made to the courts to have the property interests of the respective parties settled, the greatest interest is being manifested at the seaside resort,
both on account of the curious origin of the present entanglement, and also the social prominence of Dr. Nathaniel Kuns, who follows the profession of dentist.

Up to last March Mr. and Mrs. Kuns were devoted members of the Church Church, but evangelistic services held at Santa Monica during the month served as a pleasant stimulus during the stagnation of the winter season. Mrs. Kuns "got religion," as it is commonly termed, or, to be more precise, perhaps, got an added supply, for, as stated, she had of late been member prominent to that time. Be that as it may, she took a more active part in church affairs, and very soon severed
her connection with the Methodist Church, and joined the Methodist. Her husband, Dr. Kuns, who has always been regarded as a very mild mannered man, was grieved at his wife surrendering the form of belief to which she had previously adhered, and in which he himself thoroughly believed, but made no opposition as he recognized the fact that it was a matter affecting the individual conscience. When, however, his wife succeeded in getting the children, a son and daughter, to also switch their allegiance to the Methodist Church, Dr. Kuns was more than grieved—he was very seriously displeased. The children, however, being both of a mature age, were quite able to look out for themselves, the son practicing in Los Angeles as a dentist, and the daughter, Mrs. Ida Triplett, continuing to live with her parents as she had done since the time of her divorce.

From the religious differences indicated, all the troubles that are to be unfolded in this case, it is to be had his rise. The feeling between Dr.
Kuns and his wife became so acute that they agreed to separate, and some of the things that served to accentuate
this determination were rather funny.
Some time before Dr. Kuns had been persuaded by his wife to deed over to her a goodly slice of his property, and he did so. After the deed had been executed it was left rather carelessly, lying on the dining-room table, and Dr. Kuns, seeing some time later that it was still lying there, took it and stowed it safely away. Meantime Mrs.
Kuns imagined that her husband had deposited the deed for safe keeping in a small box in which he kept some valuable, and not desiring that the deed of conveyance should be in anyone's possession but her own, she took the box and looked it up. It was there her husband retained the key, but she knew that if she kept the box he could only open it in her presence, and then she could get the deed itself into her possession. But in the interim the atmosphere of the mansion at Fourth street and Nevada avenue had become quite warm, and Dr. Kuns destroyed the deed in his possession. It had never been recorded, and consequently the life discovery of the deed itself, she had been carefully guarding him, did not contain the precious document, she was very wrathful.

The doctor was willing to do anything for a quiet life, and consented to evacuate his home, retaining only the right to sleep in a room he reserved for his own use. This plan didn't work well, however, for, although Dr. Kuns only went home late and left in the morning, on two occasions he was locked out, and had to return downtown to sleep. The third time he was locked out he did not return downtown, however, but kicked the door in instead. But Mrs. Kuns had other

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The stealing and carrying away of houses is becoming a favorite industry in Santa Monica. So far none of the lots on which the houses stood have been taken.

That dastardly villain, the dog-poisoner, having resumed operations in this city, it behooves dog-owners to sleep with one eye open and squinting down the barrel of a shotgun.

With the Oriental steamship project and the vast and inviting field for agricultural development across the order, to which special attention has lately been called, San Diego is becoming more and more the City of Great Expectations.

With the war ended and the treasury reserve piling up daily, the cattlemen of Arizona have just discovered that they have been contributing an unnecessary amount to the support of the government by putting stamps on every bill of sale in accordance with the amount of the bill, and a 10-cent stamp for each affidavit. A letter from the collector at Santa Fe informs the chairman of the Live Stock Sanitary Board that this was unnecessary. But the Arizona men are patriotic, and they won't kick about a little thing like that.

The little speech made by M. H. Wright to the Pasadena Republican Club, of which he was made president last Friday night, has the right ring. Said he: "We never had a better ticket to work for, and the least we can do is to bestir ourselves to elect it from top to bottom. We can proceed to business at once. Before another week is out we can have a rally here, and we shall all pull together on the square to make this the most successful campaign we ever had." This spirit all along the line would give the Republicans an overwhelming victory.

The Western Graphic, the Greater Los Angeles, was formally presented to the public yesterday. As becomes a bride who has just taken a new name, the Graphic appears in an edition de luxe—not to say costume de luxe—splendidly adorned. A peculiarly attractive feature of the number is a magnificent half-tone in bronze purple on the first page, the subject being the composite picture of forty-two beautiful American women, of whom Miss Maggie Winston of this city was one, which adorns the medal commemorating the Transmississippi Exposition.

It is manifest that the sooner the Seventh Regiment is mustered out the better it will be. The only possible way in which the regiment could be made really effective for service, even if sent to Manila, would be to have a change of commanders. Most of the officers, as well as the men, now desire to be released, and so bitter is the feeling among them that at a meeting on Thursday Col. Berry and Adj. Alfonso almost came to blows. With such conditions existing, it would be unfortunate for the regiment to be kept longer in the service, even if the men preferred to go to Manila.

Rural Press Association.

Yesterday afternoon the Rural Press Association met at its office in this city for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. This association is purely a business organization, formed for the purpose of protecting its members from advertising frauds, to bring the papers represented into more favorable relations with non-local advertisers, and generally, to conserve the interests of the rural press. It is non-political, its meetings open to all, and is designed to cultivate acquaintanceship and more fraternal feelings among the newspaper proprietors of its territory. Starting out with a membership of sixteen rural papers one year ago, it now has thirty-one enrolled, with business relationship touching fifteen papers not members of the association.

At the meeting yesterday J. W. Jeffrey of the Azusa Pomotronic was unanimously re-elected president; John Wagon of the Pomona Times, vice-president, and John Sharp, South Pasadena, secretary. The president and secretary, with J. W. Harvey, C. H. Eberle and D. G. Holt, will be the Executive Committee, and W. B. Harding the business agent for the ensuing year.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Difficulties in the Way of Brazilian Trade.

Some weeks ago the Board of Trade received a communication from the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, with regard to the investigation made by that institution as to the probability for a market for California wines in the more populous sections of Brazil. President Daniel is in receipt of a letter from the general manager of the Manufacturers and Producers' Association of San Francisco, asking for a copy, and saying:

"This association is at the present time attempting to interest the wine and fruit industries of the State in the possibilities of the Paris Exposition as a medium for extending the markets abroad, and is desirous of obtaining conciliatory action of all interested parties in order that a solid front may be presented at the assembling of the next legislature to ask for an appropriation for the installation of a State exhibit."

The California Wine Association of San Francisco received a copy of this communication from the Board of Trade, and in response, their secretary writes:

"The matter of freight rates is the all-important factor that militates against California shippers. Wines are shipped from Europe to Central and South American ports for almost half the freight charged by the local shippers here. We are practically deprived of the business of the Pacific Coast ports of South America on account of the freight, and about a year ago we sent a man from New York; thence to Buenos Ayres, thence along the Orinoco River for 4000 miles, then over the Andes to Yajpura, and thence to Peru, Bolivia, and into Venezuela, but all he had to report was elegant scenery and European wines, the latter at a cost almost equal to London prices, showing that we would not be in it a little bit. When we get a competitive steamship line out of this port we may be able to reach out for trade that properly belongs to this country. For the present we are confined to our domestic trade, with now and then a streak of foreign business. We would not be able to produce enough wine to supply the demand if the markets of the world were open to us, and the transportation lines not quite so rapacious or favorably inclined toward foreign shippers. We have to deal with 49ers up this way."

ON HISTORIC GROUND.

George Carson Entertains Hundreds of Friends at a Barbecue.

The historic Dominguez rancho was the scene yesterday of a largely-attended barbecue given by George Carson to friends from all parts of the county. A special train took the city guests to the old homestead early yesterday morning, and from the smaller towns and country nearer the ranch scores of acquaintances of the family, drove, rode or walked to the feast. The affair had been arranged on a scale which would have been sufficient to accommodate half the population of the county. The tables for the barbecue were spread under a grove of trees near the old adobe building which in former years was the scene of many similar occasions. Bees had been slaughtered the day before. The meat was cooked over wood fires in wide trenches, the operation being presided over by men who had participated in barbecues from childhood and who therefore knew how best to prepare the meat. The husbands had been roasting in pits for two days.

The early morning was spent by the guests in wandering over that portion of the ranch near the house, and shortly after noon all were called to the tables which had been loaded with appetizing viands. Beg C. Truman was master of ceremonies. Short speeches were made by John F. Francis, C. D. Willard, I. W. Lord, Frank A. Davis, Walter S. Moore, Frank Dominguez and W. H. Workman. A special guest was Congressman C. W. Joy of St. Louis, chairman of the sub-committee on the Nicaragua Canal. He spoke interestingly of the proposed ditch and stated that he favored anything that would be to the interest and advantage of Southern California.

ON THE WAR PATH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
ST. PAUL, Oct. 1.—There is every probability that there will be a clash between the United States troops and the Indians on Bear Island. The Indians are making threats of violence in case any attempt is made to arrest their chief. The agent and inspector of the reservation are in Walker and report in case any attempt is made to take troops to Bear Island, there will be a fight.

There is not an Indian to be found on the reservation. Lieut. Humphrey and a squad of twenty members of the Third Infantry from Fort Snelling have reached Walker in anticipation that the red men will resist the Marshal and his deputies when they attempt to arrest the chief of the tribe, who is wanted for resisting an officer of the government in the attempt to arrest him two weeks ago.

NEW FOR RESULTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The civil engineers who have been in Nicaragua since the beginning of the inquiry by the present Nicaragua Canal Commission into the feasibility of the projected canal, have reported in Washington to Admiral Walker, the president of the board, and have been permitted to return to their homes. The engineers have brought an enormous amount of field notes, filling more than fourteen packing boxes. They have been turned over to the commission, which Admiral Walker says is now ready to proceed with the collation of the material collected.

An inquest was held at Broese Bros., undertaking parlors, yesterday afternoon on the remains of George Uhl, 24 years of age, who died Friday night at 2125 South Los Angeles street. Uhl was a chronic invalid, suffering from a complication of the heart. He had been in Los Angeles about three weeks, having come from St. Louis, Mo., where his parents reside. The body will be shipped there for burial.

That Wood Sawn.

We told you a couple of months ago that we would discontinue our little tale of trade for a while, and say nothing and saw wood. We've had a good rest, got a fresh stock of goods and stories, and 50 feet more store room. We will try to make our ad's and our prices more interesting than ever this fall. Every dollar's worth of goods we have sold in Los Angeles have been honest goods sold at honest prices that needed no adjustment to hot or cold. And we have found there are enough men and women in Los Angeles and its territory who want to do business with a business house to give that house a trade larger than any house ever built up in a town the size of Los Angeles in so short a time—four years. We're going to begin on the second four on exactly the same principles that we have worked on the past four, and we promise you the same safe and secure methods will surround every purchase you make of us until you've had your money's worth.

WIGWAM POWWOW.

DEMOCRATS AND GOBBLE PARTIES
RATIFY THEIR COUNTY TICKET.

J. Noonan Phillips Declares That No Office Will Ever Catch Up With Him—Senator White Eulogizes Maguire's Record as a Judge and Legislator—Candidates Aired.

The fusion wigwam, scene of many a Democratic powwow, and echoing still from the calamity howled at last Presidential campaign, was rededicated last night. The candidates were put through their paces, large and fragrant bouquets were tossed to the colored brother, and J. Noonan Phillips and Stephen M. White delivered extended addresses.

The new wigwam is the tent used at Santa Monica for the recent Democratic County Convention, still reeking with unhallowed memories. It is pitched in a vacant lot back of a row of small buildings and is reached from Broadway by an alley opening midway between First and Second streets.

J. Noodle Phillips was uneasy. Chairman Frank James introduced him with the promise that he would deliver a "cooking campaign speech." Phillips alluded in feeling terms to the predicament of Charles L. Ennis, fusion candidate for County Superintendent of Schools, who on being introduced was painfully embarrassed, forgot portions of his speech and blushed visibly. Phillips declared that he, too, was "blushing at being trotted out for a candidate" and hid his expansive brow behind his hand.

"I have not been a candidate for twenty-five years," he began. "I have never sought any office in my life and doubt if one will ever catch up with me."

This prediction was received with enthusiastic applause. Phillips said that he was too modest to refer to the fact that he was a candidate for something out in the Third-Sixth Senatorial District, and urged upon the crowd that if they believed that Senator Simpson of Pasadena would make a better Senator than he, they should vote for Simpson and to scratch Phillips's own name. This advice was heartily applauded.

"Henry T. Gage is the boy statesman of Los Angeles," said Phillips. "Mark Hanna is supposed to do the thinking of the Republican party, and if there is anything to be done by the Republicans of California in this campaign, then Mark Hanna is doing it. Gage is a nice fellow, but a good fellow to stay at home and raise Jersey calves. He has to get a man of brains to make speeches for him. Gen. Barnes is an able man—but he is a lawyer. Had I been on that side, I don't know but they would have tried to hire me." (Tremendous applause, and Phillips drinks a goblet of water to veil his confusion.)

Senator Stephen M. White delivered an excellent address, stoutly defending Maguire's reputation. He dwelt long on his record as an able and upright judge, and said that after a life spent in the public service Judge Maguire deserved promotion. The well-worn plea was made that Maguire's single beliefs were a personal matter, and would have the weight only of his personal vote if an amendment to the Constitution in favor of single beliefs should pass the Legislature and reach the people.

J. L. Murphy, candidate for District Attorney, declared that Maguire had introduced at least one bill which became a law which had been of great service to poor men—the Maguire act, which provides for a way in which sailors can collect overdue wages without having the entire sum eaten up by the expenses of bringing suit. Frank James presided well, and introduced a number of county nominees. Among the others who made speeches were James Hanley, Frank J. Cooper, A. R. Sprague, Mr. Edmonson, R. W. Wood, J. L. Murphy, J. W. Hanselman, J. C. Newton, Charles L. Ennis, O. D. Fitzgerald, W. R. Scarborough and A. R. Fitzgibbon.

FAST HORSES COMING.

Stars of the Track Secured for Next Week's Races.

A deal was consummated last night whereby a quintette of stars of the harness world would be seen at the coming meeting of the District Agricultural Association, which opens on Tuesday.

The celebrated pacers, Searchlight, Anaconda and Klamath, are coming here direct from Kentucky, and on the same car will be Dione and Klamath, two trotters of national reputation. These harness horses will be shipped direct to the Los Angeles track. Klamath is to be sent against the world's three-year-old pacing record of 2:05½, which was made by that colt only last week at Louisville. To show what a speed marvel Klamath is at the pacing gait, it is only necessary to state that the three-year-old record up to the present season was 2:09½. Klamath is a California-bred youngster, and is owned by Mr. Boyd, a mining operator of San Francisco.

Dione and Klamath are to contest in the free-for-all against Monterey, Toggles or any other horse anxious to try conclusions with them. Dione is one of the fastest mares out this year, and has a record of 2:09½, made at Louisville. She is owned by E. B. Spreckels and is regarded as a better mare than Hulda ever was. Klamath is at Louisville, but returns here with the Keating stable.

The campaign made by Searchlight and Anaconda has been the wonder of the year. They have been shipped from track to track, and both have met the pick of the sidwheeler division, yet Searchlight has suffered but one defeat and Anaconda but two or three in over twenty races. Searchlight comes back to California with a mark of 2:04½, which is the four-year-old record of the world, while Anaconda holds the world's five-year-old pacing record with a mark of 2:05½. Searchlight and Anaconda will be seen in a special pacing race the latter part of the meeting.

When the carload of horses reaches here from Kentucky, there will be more fast horses with records at Agricultural Park than have ever been assembled on any race track in California.

Much better, who secured a mark of 2:07½ at Santa Rosa, is the fastest green pacer of the year, while Monterey, Toggles, Poe Wheeler, Rex Alto, Prince Gift are fast-harness horses that will materially aid in making the Los Angeles meeting of 1893 one long to be remembered.

TEDDY'S HEROIC TERRORS.

Cow-punchers Said to Have Vindicated Themselves in the West.

[Denver, Republican.] The cow-puncher has a lot of his big illuminated pages of history. He has put his foot in it, to his undying glory and to the utter eradication of all the slighting things that have been said about the unruly herds of stamped steers on wild western plains.

Col. Roosevelt never tires of lauding his regiment of Rough Riders, the basis of which, he says, is the cow-puncher. There are ex-politicians, Harvard men, country doctors, dudes and heirs to millions in his regiment, but the framework of the organization that has won the name in California is the cowboy—bronzed, devil, loud and unenvied. They are scrapped by nature," said Roosevelt, and apologizes for the language while sticking to the assertion. They were not ambushed. They knew where the Spaniards were, and hit them because they wanted to. They had not had an excitement. Life without a little scrap was intolerable. Anything would do to liver things up a bit. The cow-punchers had not had even a good yell since they left Arizona and Oklahoma. The fight in the tropical undergrowth was just like a day off in town to most of those uncouth fellows, every one made of heroic stuff.

The Rough Riders will go into history along with other immortal fighters—the Light Brigade, Napoleon's Imperial Guard, Xenophon's Ten Thousand, Caesar's Tenth Legion; and they will be by and by get into fiction as successors to the White Company of Conan Doyle and the Zulu Corps of Rider Haggard. And their names will be fragrant of romance, and their deeds, magnified and gilded, will thrill many a fireside circle in the golden days that are to come. It is worth something to be one of Teddy's Terrors.

American not England's "Daughter."

[William Archer in Pall Mall Magazine.] A misleading metaphor may do a great deal to beget and perpetuate confusion of thought, and such a metaphor, I suggest, is that which designates England as the "mother country" of America. Tennyson has given it literary sanction in the line "Giant's daughter, she of the transatlantic land." They are both daughters, and William Watson, in his sonnet beginning, "O towering daughter, Titan of the West," repeats the phrase without misgiving. Both poets ignore the flight of time, and mistake an historical for an actual relation. The America of today is not the daughter of the England of today. They are both daughters of the past, and especially, we may say, of seventeenth-century England. The same spirit which refused ship-money to Charles I refused it to George III; the same spirit which drew up the Declaration of Independence, it was England's misconception of her true relation to her American colonies that not only a mother-land, but a step-mother-land, and the United States nobly and inevitably broke her long estrangement. And now, after the lapse of a century and a quarter, we have no shadow of an excuse for putting on material airs toward the transatlantic republic. We, no less than the Americans, are revolted children of the England of North and Greenville, though our revolt has been a bloodless one. Surely, then, our relation is fraternal, not paternal and filial. Or, since a significant personification—a remnant either of mythology or of chivalry—makes nations feminine of gender, let us say that we are sister commonwealths.

Not Separated by Death.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—When leaning over a casket, taking a last look at the remains of a girl friend, Minnie Budelski fell forward on the casket and died instantly. Miss Budelski and Minnie Budelski had been constant companions since childhood. A double funeral will now take place and the two girls, inseparable in life, will be buried side by side.

OCTOBER.

October—Autumn—the sere and yellow leaf—summer-day fancies and thoughts are left behind and the first strong push is being made into the unknown splendors of a new season in Furniture.

A season which promises much that is new and novel and artistic in cabinet making. Thoughts which we planted in May are now beginning to bear fruit in an ensemble of Furniture that has never been approached in this vicinity.

In the dull season when makers needed money to keep help employed, and the cost of production was reduced below normal—then it was we planned for what is now here. The thought that ran through the scheme of operation was three-fold—Quality, Variety and Price. And next in importance came another trinity—Artistic Designing, Fine Furnishing and Exclusive Patterns that every Tom, Dick and Harry could not secure.

If all these conditions were fulfilled we were sure of a "perfect Furniture Store." How near we have approached to our ideals you must judge, and to judge wisely we hope you will visit the store. Taking plenty of time to see for yourself if you can afford to purchase furniture elsewhere.

NOMINATION OF COL. BRODIE RATIFIED.

New Railroad to Be Built from Williams to Jerome by a Lumber Company.

ROUGH RIDER LOST A BRIDE.

TUCSON FIRE DEPARTMENT TO BE REORGANIZED.

Ingenious Mr. Smith Escapes from Jail and Locks Up the Jailor. Small Boys Terrorize Globe.

PHOENIX, Sept. 28.—[Regular Correspondence.] The nomination of Col. Brodie for Delegate to Congress was ratified last evening by Republicans of Maricopa county with an open-air mass meeting. Two thousand or more voters turned out to hear the speakers of the occasion. Those addressing the meeting were Hon. Jerry Murray, who acted as chairman of the meeting, Gov. N. O. Murphy, Dr. D. C. Belden, Hon. C. M. Frazier, Hon. J. C. Adams, Hon. T. E. Flannigan, Judge J. H. Kibbey and Chaplain Winfield Scott. Mayor Adams referred feelingly to the Republican candidate for County Superintendent of Schools, T. F. Grindell, who is lying ill with fever at Long Island City, N. Y., after being mustered out with other Rough Riders. Gov. Murphy predicted the election of Col. Brodie to Congress, and this sentiment was, of course, repeated by the speakers of the evening.

On and after October 1 radical changes will be inaugurated at the Experiment Station near Phoenix. Ben Eager, who has been acting as farmer, and has been in charge of the work, will retire from any connection with the station. Prof. A. J. McClatchie will take complete charge of the experimental work in the laboratory. He will be assisted by Frank A. Simmons, Charles Arney and A. P. McKern. It is also proposed to erect some new buildings at the station this year. The experimental work will be greatly broadened in character and be made more valuable than ever to the territory.

INCORPORATION. Articles of incorporation of the Saginaw Southern Railroad were filed on Monday with the Territory secretary by John C. Brown, George C. Wharton, Max Salzman, William P. Cutting, Charles F. Roberts and Edward M. Doe; capital stock, $250,000, of which $50,000 is to be paid in cash. It is proposed to build the new road from a point at or near the town of Williams, in a southerly direction through the Lake of the Gophers to Yavapai to the terminus at the town of Jerome, a distance of about thirty-six miles. With the necessary sidetracks and spurs contemplated, the road will have about fifty miles of track. It is understood that the Saginaw Lumber people at Williams are behind the road, that projected, and while using it for hauling lumber, they will have a constant source of income by furnishing the people of Jerome with transportation facilities.

ROUGH RIDERS HOME. Within the past week a number of the Rough Riders have arrived home in Phoenix. Among the number are D. Draper, J. E. Vines and Walter T. Gregory. The latter, at the time of leaving here, was city editor of the Evening Herald. He had been away from the city for some time, having returned from the hardships of the Santiago campaign, he expresses himself as having seen enough for the present at leaving his campaigning. He was promoted to the position of corporal. On the same train with Mr. Gregory, two others, W. E. Marvin and W. T. Sexsmith, of Yuma, arrived in Phoenix. Mr. Marvin is somewhat noted as being an assistant in charge of the dynamite gun carried by the Rough Riders. All the returned soldiers look well, but complain of the aches and "feelin's" that accompany heavy attacks of malaria.

PHOENIX IN BRIEF. Joseph L. Giroux, superintendent of the United Verde mine at Jerome, was in town this week, and stated that in six months' time the town will be rebuilt in better shape than ever. Dave Goodin, who raced horseback through the streets of Phoenix, and shot his revolver rather promiscuously, paid $20 for the privilege in Justice Johnston's court the other day. Railroad men report that shipments of alfalfa hay to Southern California have greatly increased again, and are only restrained at the present time by a lack of cars.

The Populist met in county convention last Saturday afternoon and did nothing in the matter of selecting a county ticket. Leaders of the party desired that the county ticket should be made inasmuch as the Republicans have adopted an initiative and referendum plank, but as this was not the policy of a minority it was resolved to take no action whatever, permitting the Populist voters to vote for such candidates as they may choose.

The Territorial Sunday-school Association will hold its annual session this year in Phoenix on November 18 and 19. Special services will be held in the various churches on Sunday, November 20. Occupants of school lands are now engaged in paying rent for the ensuing year. Ais, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alexander, yesterday swallowed some concentrated lye, and her life is despaired of. Mr. Alexander is a member of Col. McCord's regiment. Col. J. T. Simms, a former resident of this place, died recently in Indianapolis, where he has made his home for the past two years. He was 68 years old when he died. He was one of the principal contractors of the Santa Fe Pacific Railroad when projected through Arizona many years ago, and later located in Phoenix.

PRESIDENT. Prescott, Sept. 27.—[Regular Correspondence.] A rumor has been floating around the streets of Prescott that a regiment of cavalry is to be garrisoned in the near future. This news lacks confirmation, however. A strike has broken out in the Flats. Saturn mine at a depth of 800 feet. The ore assays as high as $2000 a ton. Constable Burke brought in a prisoner from Jerome, who was caught in the act of stealing lumber from the United Verde Company. The prisoner was arrested, tried and found guilty all within two hours. Farley Smith has received a letter from his partner, Dan Coats, in the Klondike, who writes that wages are now $5 per day. Coats says he has refused $30,000 for one of his claims. Mine Foreman Slattery of Jerome is reported to have gotten into a quarrel with a discharged workman named William Brown. When Slattery came out the fight he was minus his nose and claims that Brown bit it off. Brown denies this and says that when he knocked Slattery through a window, a piece of broken glass amputated the facial member.

Con O'Keefe, a merchant of Jerome, had his stock of goods valued at $20,000 burned in the recent fire. His health and insurance. The goods were the result of a life-time of saving.

James Farley, who was brought here from Jerome, has been committed to the insane asylum. He manifests a suicidal and murderous mania. While confined in the County Jail here he tried to cut his throat and had to be put in a strait-jacket.

The registration of the Prescott public schools for the first three weeks of the year just completed, in 38, which is 105 more than the registration for the corresponding time last year. Sixty-two are pupils who have moved to Prescott and the balance are little ones who are beginning in the primary and kindergarten departments.

The great register of Yavapai county will this year contain about four thousand names.

Jerome is minus a jail since the fire.

Prisoners of an unruly character are confined to the telegraph poles by having their arms handcuffed around the poles. This plan has been found effective and the prisoner is given his choice of standing up or sitting down.

Col. McCord's regiment traveled to Lexington, Ky., in tourist and Pullman cars. There were twenty-eight cars in all, including four baggage cars. They were taken to Kansas City in three sections. From there to St. Louis the train was divided between the Burlington, Alton and Missouri Pacific roads.

A postoffice has been established on the Arizona Fria with Fred Hiltbrand as postmaster. It is named Dewey.

NOGALES. NOGALES (Ariz.), Sept. 26.—[Regular Correspondence.] The new municipal government of that portion of Nogales on the Mexican side of the line has been inaugurated, with Don Prospero Sandoval as president. One of the recent acts of the administration has been to consolidate the public schools of that city under the principalship of Señor Ignacio Covarrubias. The school has five assistants, and there are about two hundred and fifty pupils enrolled, with an average attendance of about two hundred.

The iron bridges that are to span the arroyos or washes on Camillo and Colorado rivers in the mountains near Nogales have been shipped from Chicago, and as soon as they arrive will be placed in position. The masonry abutments were finished some days since.

The number of English-speaking Catholics in this place has increased so much that a church service will be a feature of the church services every first and third Sunday.

J. de Luisigan, who has a grievance against someone, went before a justice of the peace last week, pleaded guilty to an offense not yet committed and paid the fine in advance.

Traffic in the neighboring State of Sonora is being resumed again, as the muddy roads are becoming passable.

Engineer Ignacio Bonillas and Señor Felipe Boyer, who have been sent to a commission to determine the exact location of the Pinar de Teras mining district, have decided that it is not within the prohibited zone where foreigners cannot hold mining properties without permits from the Federal government. Their report has been sent to the court of the Federal district in the City of Mexico, and forms the basis for a decision in favor of Col. F. H. Gage and Señor Jesus Santa Cruz. Some of the properties are being operated by E. L. Lindsay and J. King for their owners.

BISBEE. BISBEE (Ariz.), Sept. 27.—[Regular Correspondence.] It is stated on good authority that Mrs. Frances Conyers, who has been confined in jail at Tombstone on the charge of murdering her husband, has at last broken down and, by entering a plea of manslaughter, only practically admits her guilt. She has, up to the present, obstinately maintained her innocence, declaring that her husband's death was due to an accident. Considerable damaging evidence is stated, has been collected by the authorities.

James Schuchert, a Rough Rider who enlisted from San Antonio, Tex., was married only a week before being mustered out at Montauk Point, was in Bisbee last week hunting his bride. He states that a fellow Rough Rider enticed her from her home in San Antonio by telling her the story that her husband was sick at Bisbee with fever. A brother of the bride is also hunting the missing girl and telegraphed to Schuchert, while the latter was in Bisbee, that he had heard of her at Marshall, Tex.

Insurance rates on frame dwellings here are as high as 10 per cent. It is believed that the introduction of more brick and stone buildings will tend to a tendency to bring the rate down.

Three small buildings in the rear of the copper company's stables were burned down last Thursday night and gave the town a little shake of terror, in view of what recently befell Jerome. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

TUCSON. TUCSON (Ariz.), Sept. 28.—[Regular Correspondence.] So far there has been only one man from Arizona who has resolved to stay in Cuba. He is Ed Hawkins, a packer, who left here last May. He writes to friends in the city from Santiago that he has concluded to stay there, and grow up with the country.

M. W. Wilson, an architect of this city, has furnished plans for a new building, to be erected at Jerome by E. C. Bartlett of this city. It will be built of concrete, will be three stories high and contain eight stores and thirty-two rooms. It will be used partly for mercantile and partly for hotel purposes, and be 45x115 feet in dimensions.

Peter Aune, who was brought here from Yuma, and had his leg amputated, will be discharged from the hospital October 1, and be able to return to his home. Aune fell from the top of a passenger coach at Yuma and his leg caught in the ladder, breaking it in an exceedingly ugly manner.

At the end of two weeks the public schools of Tucson are being attended by 30 per cent. more than the corresponding time last year.

The public school property of Pima county is valued at a little over $40,000. Forty-six teachers are employed at an average salary of $70. The total enrollment is 2008, and the average length of the school year is 100 days. The school expended last year for all school purposes.

The Radulovich Block will be rebuilt on one-story structure, with a view to making it two stories when adequate fire protection is assured. A portion of the ground has been sold to Mr. Fleischman.

The lodge of Odd Fellows, having been burned out when the Radulovich Block went up in smoke, is talking of erecting a building of its own. It is possible that the Odd Fellows will buy a half interest in the building site owned by the city, and assist the city in putting up a lodge building, the same to be used jointly.

The annual session of the Arizona mission of the Methodist Episcopal church will begin in this city tomorrow and close next Monday morning. The members of the conference will be welcomed by President Parker of the university and by ex-Gov. Hughes. Bishop Hurst will respond. A reception in the bishop's honor will be held in the evening. The ministers attending will consist of the Revs. C. H. Payne of New York, A. M. Gibbons, J. M. Baxter, E. J. D. Wilson, N. H. Bartlett, C. K. Jenness and S. L. Guthrie.

A meeting of the local school board was held Monday evening, the board decided to employ an additional teacher, and Mrs. Whalley, who was elected a substitute, will be given charge of the school. The board will hold over sixty pupils each.

The City Council, at a meeting held last Saturday night, adopted a resolution disbanding the department and relieving all officers of the department from further duty. This radical action is the basis of starting point for the reorganization of the fire department. It is proposed that the chemical engine and the hook and ladder will be managed by a single company. Two hose companies will be organized. Volunteers to compose these companies are asked for. It is proposed to have a special alarm apparatus on the alarm of fire by giving $2.50 to first team that secures the engine and $1 for the hook and ladder.

ARIZONA IN GENERAL. A man named Smith succeeded in escaping from the County Jail at St. Johns by placing a roll of blankets in his bed and slipping out of the cell when the jailer came to give him his breakfast. The latter incautiously left the key on the door of the cell, and Smith locked the door in making his exit. He secured a Winchester left by friends, and stole a horse attached to the jail. A posse taking the trail in pursuit were unable to come up with him.

Arthur Green, a Southern Pacific fireman, laid down near the Ogilby Station, in order that the train he desired to board would awaken him on its approach. His feet, however, were struck by the engine and he was dragged along the track. In his effort to free himself he grabbed hold of the cylinder cock and was scalded by the escaping steam. When rescued it was found that one foot was so badly injured that amputation was necessary, and it is feared that the other may be lost also. Green is now in the hospital at Los Angeles.

The new railroad bridge spanning the Colorado River, which will require the employment of over 100 men. Farmers living in the Colorado Valley below Yuma have inaugurated a movement to establish a postoffice, and will start a townsite.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eichelberger named their little daughter Kofa. Mr. Eichelberger was a member of the King of Arizona mine, which has made him wealthy, and when the little girl came he chose the initials of his mine (K. of A.) as her name.

A siding eleven miles northeast of San Carlos on the new Globe Railroad has been christened Rice siding, and will serve as the terminus of the road. The employment of over 100 men. Farmers living in the Colorado Valley below Yuma have inaugurated a movement to establish a postoffice, and will start a townsite.

Local papers state that orders have been issued by the War Department that in effect make San Carlos an independent post to be garrisoned by a full battalion of troops. A company of infantry from Fort Grant recently arrived at San Carlos. New buildings are to be erected for the accommodation of the troops to be stationed there.

ABOUT JOE WHEELER. Several Spicy Reminiscences of the Cuban Campaign.

[Atlanta Constitution.] A whole lot of good stories are being told about Gen. Wheeler, and some of them are true. He did climb up a tree to see if he could locate the Spanish forces, and he did say, when his division was moving forward after the fight at La Guasima, "The Yanks are retreating boys. Come on."

He is so small and active that a newspaper man in his mind wanted material for publication, and his quick wit contributes as much to his success as his indomitable courage. I heard a specially characteristic conversation between him the other day, and it bears all the earmarks of veracity. Speaker Tom Reed and a group of politicians in Washington were talking about the passing of the Confederate veterans, the conversation touching the subject when some spoke of the death of Senator John Hays, who had been a member of the party. "In a few years the rebel yell will be but an echo in the wilderness."

"But we have old Joe Wheeler with us still," said a second man, "and he shows no signs of weakening." "Not him," he was told, "he was not a day more of it than the others, and there was never a bit of trouble or unpleasantness."

And this brings out another odd trait in Wheeler. He never in the world says anything bad about people. "Not him," he was told, "he was not a day more of it than the others, and there was never a bit of trouble or unpleasantness."

An Alabama newspaper, reprinting Wheeler's recent letter to the Constitution, criticizes this paper for signing his name "Joe Wheeler," and invariably referring to him in that way. The editor of the paper states that the name "Joe" is in his signature, and that he has watched him write some hundreds of letters in Cuba while he waited to carry them to the coast for him and I never yet saw him write the word "Joseph." It was "Joe" when he wrote to his best friends, and "Joe" when he wrote to the department at Washington. If the Alabama editor has another sort of signature it is probably the work of the general's numerous secretaries in Washington.

And yet there is no lack of dignity in the little soldier. No man in Washington is more respected than he is in Cuba not only loved him, but would have followed him anywhere. He never asked them to do anything that he would not do himself. He ate what they ate and he slept where they slept. I see there is talk of nominating him for president of the United States, and there is no fear of either nominating or of electing him on the score of dignity. But I doubt if he could still in the president's chair for four years. The office is too quiet for him, and there is too little action. Give him a major general's place in the next Congress when the silver and gold comes and those Georgians who turn their eyes northward about that time will see sparks flying out of Washington.

CUPID AND DEATH.

It is a pitiful truth that in a tremendous percentage of cases love and death claim a young woman at the same moment. If a young woman's mother does not feel competent to give her daughter the right advice about how to keep herself well and strong in a maidenly way, she should seek the advice of a woman of experience and wide experience, and of substantial reputation. A young woman naturally does not like to be a subject of discussion, examination and the horrible local treatment of a home doctor. Moreover, obscure physicians make the mistake of attributing her ills to indigestion, or liver trouble, when the real cause is weakness or disease of the delicate organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood.

The embarrassing examinations and local treatment upon which most doctors insist, are nine times in ten entirely unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts directly on a woman's special organism and makes it strong and healthy, and competent to bear the strain of wifehood and motherhood. It always inflammation, soothes pain, heals ulceration and styles debilitating drains. It banishes the sufferings of the period of expectancy, and makes baby's arrival in the world easy and almost painless. Good druggists recommend it. Letters addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., are sacredly confidential.

"It has been nearly four years since I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. C. Clark of New Rome, Floyd Co., Ga., "and there have been no signs of any return of female complaint. I am now fifty years old and feel as well as I ever did. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and I have used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and found them as good as recommended."

Look glum and feel glum? That's biliousness and constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure, speedy and permanent cure. They never gripe. At all medicine stores.

"Say, mister," I said, "why can't you take me with you?" "Son, you're too young," replied the cavalryman. "I'm just as young as I look," I urged. "I'm just small for my age." "Well, I know," said the cavalryman, "fidgeting about for an excuse, but I'll tell you, bud, you ain't got no hoss."

"Never you mind that," I retorted. "I'll get me a gun I'll get a horse in the first week." "You're a little fellow," said the cavalryman, and I could see he was getting desperate. "You're a little fellow," said the cavalryman, and I could see he was getting desperate. "You're a little fellow," said the cavalryman, and I could see he was getting desperate.

Of the hard work Wheeler does in Washington a whole library has already been written, and from every of his contributions to the press, a sender-out of seeds and government documents, he has never had an equal. A member of his committee-room. Wheeler was traveling through a mountain pass, his horse found an overtook a mail carrier on foot, though with 100 pounds of mail on his back.

"Why don't you get a horse and wagon?" asked Wheeler of the mail carrier, who was a stranger to him. "I'd like a horse and a buckboard," retorted the man, "but that damned fool of a Congressman Wheeler sent so many of his speeches down here into the Congress being told across his heavy killed the horse and buried the buckboard, and here I be a foot."

Wheeler was much pained at this and gave $50 toward the mail carrier's relief. As commander of the cavalry division of the Fifth Army Corps, Wheeler used to call conferences with his generals whenever the thought struck him, and I never saw these men together that I was not impressed by the wonderful differences in individuality and characteristics which made them all so invincible as a whole. Wheeler, small, nervous, restless and active as a Porto Rican monkey, was big, slow, heavy and cautious; Roosevelt, quick, aggressive, impulsive, and daring; Young, tall and strong as a grizzly bear and with the Washington, were talking about the passing of the Confederate veterans, the conversation touching the subject when some spoke of the death of Senator John Hays, who had been a member of the party.

"They're all going," remarked a member of the party. "In a few years the rebel yell will be but an echo in the wilderness." "But we have old Joe Wheeler with us still," said a second man, "and he shows no signs of weakening." "Not him," he was told, "he was not a day more of it than the others, and there was never a bit of trouble or unpleasantness."

And this brings out another odd trait in Wheeler. He never in the world says anything bad about people. "Not him," he was told, "he was not a day more of it than the others, and there was never a bit of trouble or unpleasantness."

An Alabama newspaper, reprinting Wheeler's recent letter to the Constitution, criticizes this paper for signing his name "Joe Wheeler," and invariably referring to him in that way. The editor of the paper states that the name "Joe" is in his signature, and that he has watched him write some hundreds of letters in Cuba while he waited to carry them to the coast for him and I never yet saw him write the word "Joseph." It was "Joe" when he wrote to his best friends, and "Joe" when he wrote to the department at Washington. If the Alabama editor has another sort of signature it is probably the work of the general's numerous secretaries in Washington.

And yet there is no lack of dignity in the little soldier. No man in Washington is more respected than he is in Cuba not only loved him, but would have followed him anywhere. He never asked them to do anything that he would not do himself. He ate what they ate and he slept where they slept. I see there is talk of nominating him for president of the United States, and there is no fear of either nominating or of electing him on the score of dignity. But I doubt if he could still in the president's chair for four years. The office is too quiet for him, and there is too little action. Give him a major general's place in the next Congress when the silver and gold comes and those Georgians who turn their eyes northward about that time will see sparks flying out of Washington.

$20 Fall Suits

For the Man of Today.

The man of today is the man who combines economy with style; likewise, he is the man who is endowed with wisdom to discriminate between extraordinary claims of value and actual value. The highest priced custom tailors in America can make no more artistic suits than our $20.00 suits. The fabrics of these suits are among the most choicest and beautiful which the woolen world knows. The fit and finish are simply unsurpassable.

At $17.50, $15.00, $12.50 and $10.00 we show some extra good suits, good style and good making and in great variety. See them.

HOW HE STOOD RICHES.

A Newsboy Who Suddenly Came Into the Possession of Money.

[Chicago Tribune.] Last week Joseph Letter had the accounts of the old Newsboy's Home that used to be in Washington street straightened up. As he was a lot of newsboys woke up on Wednesday morning and found fortune knocking on the door.

It is always interesting to know what people would do with their money if they were suddenly to become rich. Here is what one of the newsboys, who is now employed in a downtown newspaper office did. He was sleeping soundly at 7 o'clock as anybody can who has worked all night and did not get into bed until 5 o'clock. Suddenly there was a tremendous pounding on the door. His big brother, who drives a dray and whose education has been a trifle neglected, was pounding with a nail bat against the door and bawling "Say, git up, dere's a fortune been left ter yer!"

This particular boy got right up. He did not delay to take his cold bath or even to dress. Fortune knocks only once at every man's door, and when it knocks there should be no time wasted in cold baths or in the small details of the toilet. This boy went down stairs in three jumps and fell into the arms of a tall man at the door. He grasped with him and said, "Gimme me der dough." The man told the boy that the old accounts of the Newsboy's Home had been ordered paid, and that if the boy would go down to the bank he named he would receive the money due him.

The newly-fledged Napoleon of finance started immediately, but the policeman who walks the beat on West Erie street made him go back and put on his clothes. A few minutes later he was flying down the street in the direction of town with half a dozen small boys following in his wake shouting, "Boy, Jimmie, were a fire!"

But James never stopped. The bridge was turned and he would have jumped into the river and started across if one had not plucked him by the coat tails and bidden him stay until the bridge came back in place. He caught a street car, but it went too slow and he jumped off and ran again. He got down town at last and reached the bank. Here $138.38 was counted out to him.

"Keep de 'tirty-eight cents," said the newly-made heir, and he took the small change in his hand and a small newspaper with an armful of papers. "Jimmie crickets, dat's Vander-gould, dat is," said the small newsboy, who had been waiting with him. "Jimmie counted his money slowly. Then he gave $5 to the central station detective who had formerly been an off-beat with him and said, "There are the boys entitled to money. The youthful Croesus tore off another $5 bill and gave it to his younger brother, when the latter, who had been waiting with him, said, "Gimme me der dough." Having dispensed these largesses with a lavish hand, he went over to the trust company and deposited $75. "Dere's seventy-five bones what I ain't going to blow," he remarked as he put away the money. Then he went to the office where he works and paid $2 worth of debts. The next thing was a stroll on State street. He took a Turkish bath and went to a clothing store and bought two suits of clothes for $15. He bought a pair of tan shoes and likewise a pair of patent leather shoes. Then he bought a green, crimson, old gold, and other strange and weird hues, and underclothes and handkerchiefs. There he counted composed largely of red, green and other cardinal colors, completed his new wardrobe with one exception. He wanted a hat, and a great deal of deliberation and much urging on the part of some of his friends "ter buy a silk hat, Jimmie, sure," he bought a black stiff hat. He adjourned to a rear room of one of the stores and put on a new suit, the variegated stockings and the patent leather shoes. He looked at himself in the reddest necktie in the lot, and with parting instructions to the clerks where the rest of his purchases and his old clothes should be sent he strolled over to the office where he was employed. He bought a 10-cent cigar on the way, and when he strolled in the day office boy showed him into the managing editor's office.

The managing editor arose and bowed low, and the caller blew a puff of smoke from his pipe. The editor, in the easiest chair and asked for the guide book to summer resorts. The managing editor recognized his distinguished visitor by the name of "Jimmie," and he said, "Jimmie, I have heard of you, but I never yet saw him write the word 'Joseph.'" It was "Joe" when he wrote to his best friends, and "Joe" when he wrote to the department at Washington. If the Alabama editor has another sort of signature it is probably the work of the general's numerous secretaries in Washington.

And yet there is no lack of dignity in the little soldier. No man in Washington is more respected than he is in Cuba not only loved him, but would have followed him anywhere. He never asked them to do anything that he would not do himself. He ate what they ate and he slept where they slept. I see there is talk of nominating him for president of the United States, and there is no fear of either nominating or of electing him on the score of dignity. But I doubt if he could still in the president's chair for four years. The office is too quiet for him, and there is too little action. Give him a major general's place in the next Congress when the silver and gold comes and those Georgians who turn their eyes northward about that time will see sparks flying out of Washington.

late from the moment he was big enough to walk, and that the smallest share of what he had earned he had fallen to his lot, the way in which he spent his money was anything but creditable to him. The idea of "blowing" the windfall never occurred to him. His first act was the making of gifts to brothers, and to the man who had been kind to him. Then he put $25, a little sum, in the bank as a nest egg for future savings. He bought clothes he so badly needed, and the only extravagance that he permitted himself was a cigar. For a boy who has leaned up against the sharp corners of the world until he almost cut through his skin, and who for the first time in his life full of hard struggles had more money than he needed for the necessities of life, this boy Jimmie did pretty fairly well.

HOSTILE MAROONS.

They Take Matters Into Their Own Hands for Settlement.

[Associated Press Day Report.] NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—A dispatch to the Herald from Port Antonio says that the Maroons are assuming a more hostile demeanor every day. Five hundred of them have located in a town near that city, and say they will hold it. The police of all the adjacent towns have been sent there to strengthen the force of officials, as serious trouble is feared.

The uprising is spreading widely. Several properties claimed by the Maroons as having been granted by the government years ago, and now in the hands of Englishmen, have been taken by the rebellious tribes, and they are determined to hold them.

A statue to Mrs. Melba is to be put up next year in Melbourne.

Dr. Laura Hughes of Boston, who was in attendance at Camp Wikoff, was the first woman physician sent from Massachusetts.

Frederic Harrison has figured it out that Queen Christina is a descendant of William the Silent, one of the fiercest enemies Spain ever had.

Fanny Crosby, the blind evangelist and hymn-writer, though 78 years old, is still conducting religious services in various parts of the country and writing a great quantity of magazine articles and verse.

Queen Victoria counts among her prized possessions a small library of photograph albums which form a complete pictorial record of her reign. They are bound in royal blue morocco, with clasps of gold, and are stamped with royal crown and monogram.

"Sada," the Ohio girl who has been making a sensation in Europe as a hypnotic violinist, is said to possess a power which does explanation by the doctors, either of medicine or music. As soon as the notes of Sada's violin steal through the concert chamber, a lethargy seizes the audience and they fall asleep.

Mrs. Thackeray, Gen. Sherman's daughter, who resides in Havre, France, her husband having been made the American Consul at that post, writes that she has been elected a member of the board of managers of the Havre Society for the Protection of Animals. The members of the board are chiefly men, there being only two women besides Mrs. Thackeray.

In twenty-five years, the late Bernard has, it is announced, been paid nearly $1,250,000 for her exertions on the stage, and she is now fulfilling a comparatively short engagement, which will add about another $250,000 to that large sum. In the last ten years her average earnings have been $60,000 a year; in the last five, $100,000 a year; and at the Odeon Theatre, she earned only $40 a month.

The Duchess of Marlborough and the Duchess of Devonshire probably have the finest pearls in England; the Manchester necklace being very well known. Many smart ladies wear their pearls constantly, although it is not seen, as they are worn under a high dress, as pearls are supposed to keep their color better when worn next to the skin. Pearls have, within the last twenty-five years, increased in value 1000 per cent.

The wife of Senator C. K. Davis was on a train that was up a few nights ago. She quietly reached into a satchel and when the robber told her that she was "next," she made her a demonstration that he jumped out of the window of the moving train and broke his leg. Senator Davis is one of the United States Peace Commissioners. Mrs. Davis would evidently make a good member herself.

Mrs. Augustus Thistlewood of Providence, R. I., has been married six times. At her last wedding four of her former husbands were present and acted as ushers. The fifth sent his regrets and a present, and an invitation to the bride and groom to spend the honeymoon at his house.

The term of servitude for these husbands was ten months; all the divorces were granted upon the application of the lady without opposition. The dissolution of matrimonial ties has been due to the tact and diplomacy of the lady, who overcame her several spouses that they were misled.

BRIEF FOR THE HEN.
An Eloquent Appeal of Counsel in a Patent Case.

[Chicago Post:] That this so-called egg powder is an outrageous infringement of patent must be clear to the court, after a thorough consideration of the evidence. The table of historical references marked exhibit A demonstrates that the antiquity of the hen's egg is even greater than might be inferred from the odor of the oldest of grocery specimens. There is authority in the Bible for the statement that Noah had winged creatures in the ark, so that it is not improbable that the patent may have been taken out before the flood. The inventor requires no great stretch of the imagination to fancy that letters were granted originally by Adam in a period anterior to the fall. The suggestion calls up many solemn memories which add the force of family sentiment to the stern and eternal decrees of justice. Shall man sever the hallowed tie that has bound him for untold centuries to one of the truest and most faithful of his dependants?

But counsel argues that if the great antiquity of the patent be proved, it has lived out its life. They forget the renewals of those acts which constitute a constructive renewal. Did the Congress of the United States put an embargo on the product of the Canadian hen only to encourage a stealthy attempt to defraud our own proud bird here in America by a legal subterfuge? This is a question of law, in truth, an assault upon the laws of the country. It is an effort to defeat the purpose of the tariff. It is an attack upon the constitutional powers of Congress.

We rest our case with the court in the full assurance that it will protect those powers, that it will protect the great industry from wreck; that it will observe the precedents established by the American judiciary in analogous cases. It is but a short step from egg powder to egg shells. The product of the poultry yard should be safeguarded, and the product of the dairy has been already. And the time to forestall the proposed encroachment of the former is now, while this new invention still lingers in the bottle. There, in the words of Rev. Mr. Chadband, may it be crushed and battered and mashed out of existence.

Won the Case.
[Green Bag:] Many years ago in Virginia a case was on trial in which the defendant was accused of shooting him a form of country celebration common at that time. Dennis Keeny appeared for the defendant. It was shown that the gun with which the shooting was done was loaded with dried peas, instead of lead.

Finally a very dirty-looking witness was called and testified that he had been shot in the right leg. On cross-examination the fellow appeared rather shifty, and finally Keeny asked him to show the jury the exact spot where the pea took effect. The fellow demurred, saying that the shooting had been done six weeks before, and the wound had healed. At last, with great reluctance, the witness drew up his right trouser leg, exposing a limb well covered with dirt. Pointing to a spot which, if possible, was blacker than the rest, the witness said:

"There, that's where they went in." Keeny turned to the jury, and, in his most impressive manner, said:

"Gentlemen, I leave it to your knowledge of crops. If peas had been planted in that soil six weeks ago they would be in blossom now."

The witness retired in confusion, and Keeny won his case.

The resolutions also call upon the United Daughters of the Confederacy to protest against the movement.

He was a busy lawyer, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. Into his office tripped a woman, who introduced herself by declaring that she was a woman with a history. Anticipating a fee, he at once laid aside his work and said: "Anything, madam, you may say to me will be held in the strictest confidence. You were saying you were a woman with a history? This very sympathetically, as an encouragement. "Yes, sir," she began, as she laid a document before him. "It's a 'History of Napoleon Bonaparte.' In eighteen monthly parts, at 25 cents a part, and—

We have brought about this golden era in millinery selling—it was brought about by the tactics of this store.

The golden element is that cost may be so greatly eliminated, and the possibilities of style and value remain.

Evidence of this exists throughout the whole store. Pick up a trimmed hat, a dress shape, ribbon, or what you will—and in every instance you'll gladly note how the extremes of quality, style and low price meet.

NO C. O. D. OR DEPOSIT SCHEME.

Every person who is a sufferer from nervous diseases should write the Von Mohl Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, at once, and accept their offer of a five days' trial treatment free of charge. This is no C. O. D. or DEPOSIT scheme, but a liberal proposition made to unfortunate sufferers by this long-established concern, which is the largest importer of specific for nervous and sexual diseases in the world.

The Von Mohl Co. has the sole American rights for Prof. Laborde's French preparation of "Calthos," the only remedy known advanced medical science that will positively cure nervous debility. This remedy has for years been used as a specific in the German army, and since its introduction into the United States has cured many thousands of sufferers, and the remarkable success of the remedy in Europe has been repeated in this country.

In order to place this wonderful treatment in the hands of every person who suffers the mental and physical anguish of sexual weakness, the Von Mohl Co. has decided to send a free trial treatment to all who write at once. The remedy is sent by mail in a plain package, and there is no need of any doctor or taking of any medicine. The medicine is sent by mail in a plain package, and there is no need of any doctor or taking of any medicine.

From the bodies of her five sons, hanged in a row? There is a wounded Rough Rider in the hospital who looks the personification of courage, but who trembles and shudders whenever a vulture is seen, even afar off like a black speck in the sky. They say that he fought like a tiger in the taking of Santiago, and never flinched in the face of Spanish guns; but afterward, when he lay in the long grass with a bullet in his breast, he went into a hysterical fit when he saw the vultures coming, cowering away from them and crying like a frightened child. He knew not why he would not get up, but body so long as life lingered in it; but there were still shapes lying all around, upon which the evil birds settled in clouds. There was a sound of winging and when the black clouds lifted there was nothing left of each shape but clean-picked bones and bloody rags of uniform. Yet there is a good deal to be said in favor of the vultures, the scavengers of the tropics, who close on the heels of war would claim more victims than shot and shell. Their work of sanitation, though terrible to think of, is guided by unerring instinct to corpses hid in the chaparral, which the burial parties fail to find, is as necessary as that of their fellows in the Persian Fowls of Silence.

Immediately in front of the hospital is the new "immune" camp—their white tents strung in triple rows half a mile or more along the water-side street of Santiago. Yet the sun shines the men appear to be having a pretty good time—cracking jokes, pitching quoits and playing cards, groups of Indian fashion around a dirty blanket spread on the ground. When the windows of heaven are opened and the rain descends, it is quite another matter. Then all not on duty retire to their leaky dog-tents, to squat or lie on the wet ground and pass the time as best they can. In these fearful days there seems no need of sentinels and the quiet street in a pouring rain; and if "discipline" must be preserved at the cost of life and comfort, the sentinels are not needed to protect the camp. Uncle Samuel rich enough to provide each of his soldiers with a rubber blanket? If not, the people at large in the United States would be glad to supply the deficiency. A very portion of the money we have invested in feeding ungrateful Cubans would have furnished our own troops with blankets which would no doubt have saved many precious lives.

When their disagreeable duty is done, the wearied sentinels crawl under their tents and lie down and the sentinels of ground in their rain-soaked clothes—thus inviting malaria to assist the chilly dews of night and the fierce rays of the noonday sun in engendering fever. These men are "immunes," you say. Immune from what—from the natural conditions of the climate and from the filth to which flesh is heir? Yellow fever is among the least of dangers to be avoided in Santiago—for while he has reaped his hundred during the last few months of malaria, dysentery and other diseases induced by improper living have been ravaging their thousands in the Camp Santos.

WHERE HE WILL EXAMINE ALL THE AFFLICTED, with the latest IMPROVED INSTRUMENTS, and by the MOST SCIENTIFIC METHODS now known and used in the LARGEST EASTERN CITIES AND CAPITALS OF EUROPE, giving a candid and absolutely correct diagnosis and description of every form and nature of disease or deformities and condition of the afflicted, WITHOUT ASKING A SINGLE QUESTION.

PROF. H. RUSSELL BURNER

IS SURROUNDED BY A STAFF OF THE MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS SELECTED FROM TALENT OF THE HIGHEST ORDER BOTH FROM EUROPE AND AMERICA. With a view to their special ability as Specialists in their chosen department. HE ALSO HAS HIS OWN CHEMISTS AND DRUGGISTS, his own corps of TRAINED NURSES, headed by ONE OF CHICAGO'S MOST FAMOUS NURSES. His manager, private secretary and assistant manager are all known men for marked business ability and high social standing. The doctor positively REFUSES TO EMPLOY ANY MAN in his professional or clerical corps WHO EITHER USES ALCOHOLIC STIMULANTS, TOBACCO, OR NARCOTICS OF ANY KIND.

DR. H. RUSSELL BURNER, THE CELEBRATED AUTHOR, Teacher, Medical Lecturer, Inventor and Psychologist, has located his Sanitarium and health offices in Los Angeles, the mecca of the afflicted, not only of the United States, BUT OF ALL THE WORLD, for the treatment and cure OF ALL DIFFICULT AND LONG-STANDING CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, EYE, EAR, NERVOUS SYSTEM, etc., etc., which will enable the many patients and AFFLICTED generally to CONSULT HIM AND ARRANGE TO TAKE HIS WONDERFUL AND MOST SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT and to SECURE THE LATEST AND BEST METHODS for the cure of all such diseases, as the regular family physician and country practitioner is not prepared to treat.

DR. BURNER'S SYSTEMATIC REGISTRATION AND CAREFUL EXAMINATION of each individual case, with the assistance of his expert assistant surgeons enables all invalids to have the benefit of THEIR VAST EXPERIENCE at their HOMES (so to speak), not only saving them THE EXPENSES OF A LONG TRIP TO THE EAST OR EUROPE or the larger cities on the coast, with the excitement, apprehension, worry and fatigue incidental to such a trip, alone deterring thousands from having the attention and SERVICES OF SUCH EMINENT MEDICAL MEN with the pitiable result that MANY DIE PREMATURELY, and THOUSANDS SUFFER FOR YEARS who might, with skilled attention, be saved to themselves and friends.

DR. BURNER'S REPUTATION IS NOT ONLY NATIONAL, BUT CONTINENTAL, as he has visited Europe three times and treated thousands of cases, and made many remarkable cures, while bringing together his Anatomical Museum and fine collection of Instruments, Appliances, etc., which is the largest and finest collection now owned by any one man in the world.

Chronic Diseases.

DR. BURNER treats no acute diseases, but makes an entire SPECIALTY OF CHRONIC and LONG-STANDING DISEASES. Cases given up by other doctors and pronounced incurable, he most desires to see. DR. BURNER has treated in the last two years many of whom had been given up as INCURABLE, some to be Blind, others Deaf, and a large number to be Invalids for Life. But behold! now they See and Hear, and many are on the High Road to Health and are improving every day.

DR. BURNER is surrounded with the largest collection of fine instruments ever imported to this country for examining and treating all chronic diseases OF THE HEAD, FACE, EYE, EAR, THROAT, HEART, LUNGS, STOMACH, LIVER, KIDNEYS, BLADDER, SKIN, BRAIN and NERVOUS SYSTEM, CANCERS, TUMORS, PILES, SWELLING, OLD SORES, FITS, PARALYSIS, NEURALGIA, RHEUMATISM, DROPSY, GOUT, SICK HEADACHE, DEBILITY, DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS, DISEASES OF CHILDREN, HEREDITARY DISEASES, etc., etc., and, in fact, all long-standing and Chronic Diseases. All surgical operations performed.

Delay Is Dangerous.

Many diseases are so deceptive that hundreds of persons have them before they even suspect it. They know they are not well, but are perfectly ignorant of the deadly fangs which are fastening upon them, and must sooner or later certainly destroy them, unless RESCUED BY A SKILLFUL HAND. Are you afflicted? Your case may now be perfectly curable, but REMEMBER EVERY MOMENT OF DELAY BRINGS YOU NEARER ITS INCURABLE STAGE, when perhaps the most skillful physician could not resist. The present is ours, the future may be TOO LATE.

A Life of Experience.

DR. BURNER has had a whole life of study and experience in his profession, and enjoys advantages which fall to the lot of but few. AFTER GRADUATING HIS FULL COURSE IN THE MEDICAL COLLEGE, AND GRADUATING WITH THE HIGHEST HONORS, he was not content to stop there; but has since attended other colleges, and several times traveled to the most famous medical schools of the world, for the purpose of improvement, having VISITED THE BEST MEDICAL COLLEGES, HOSPITALS, DISPENSARIES, EYE, EAR, LUNG AND OTHER MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS ON BOTH CONTINENTS. TRAVELING MANY THOUSANDS OF MILES, both by land and sea; EXPENDING THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS; improving every advantage within his command and devoting the best years of his life to become thoroughly familiar with his profession in all its branches.

Facts for Men of All Ages.

Organic weakness, nervous debility and premature decline and like affections speedily and permanently cured by DR. BURNER. With the doctor it is hardly necessary to say that he has for many years enjoyed the distinction of being the most successful and celebrated specialist in the world for the treatment and cure of these affections, and all may consult him with complete confidence. Of all the maladies that afflict mankind

there are probably none about which physicians in general practice know so little.

Diseases of Women.

Such as has baffled the skill of all other physicians and remedies. DR. BURNER quickly cures CANCERS, TUMORS, FIBROID and POLYPOID GROWTHS cured without the use of the knife or caustic. No cutting, no pain, no danger. EPILEPSY OR FITS scientifically treated and positively cured by a never-failing method.

Latest Discoveries and Improvements.

DR. H. RUSSELL BURNER has received the MOST APPROVED INSTRUCTION IN ANALYTICAL AND MICROSCOPICAL EXAMINATIONS OF THE BLOOD, URINE, etc., which are now CONSIDERED THE GREATEST ADVANCE in the treatment of difficult cases, by modern methods, embracing many which are but seldom found outside of large cities. There are many diseases which physicians in common practice do not usually treat, and are, therefore, seldom prepared with the necessary and costly outfit to examine correctly or treat with success, such cases, therefore, would do well to call at once and learn their true condition, and whether the doors of Hope are yet open, or forever closed against them.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.

Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring 2 ounces of urine, which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination. PERSONS UNSKILLFULLY treated by ignorant pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds should call and see DR. BURNER. WONDERFUL CURES by our improved method of treatment accomplished in NERVOUS DEBILITY and kindred afflictions, which have been neglected or unsatisfactorily treated by experiments or failures. Patients treated by mail and nature remedies sent by express. Personal consultation is preferable. We guarantee all curable cases.

Cases and Correspondence Confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of the United States.

Correspondence with invalids solicited. All letters with stamps inclosed answered free.

NEW MEXICO.

RETURN OF ADVENTURERS WHO DROVE SHEEP TO ALASKA.

Irrigation Company Must Prove There is Surplus Water in the Rio Grande—Cochiti Survey Reported to be Inaccurate.

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Sept. 20.—[Regular Correspondence.] A party of Colfax county adventurers, who left New Mexico on April 27 last for the Klondike with 900 head of sheep, have just returned to their homes, after having made the trip, well pleased to get back safely after meeting with many adventures. Dawson Bros. of Colfax county conceived the idea of taking the sheep to the Klondike. The party starting out consisted of Gus Manning, Cy Dawson, Jack Rhoades, Geoffrey England and Sam Lincoln. They went to Seattle, where the sheep were purchased, together with six goats and fourteen head of horses. They arrived at Skagway on May 27, and from there took the trail. The sheep were driven a distance of fifty miles, and then loaded on three scows to make the trip down through Thirty-Mile Cañon. Here where the water has a velocity, it is said, of thirty miles an hour, one of the scows was dashed to pieces, but a number of the sheep were saved. The party finally arrived at Dawson City on July 16, with 540 out of the 900 head with which they started. They sold the sheep for $25 per head. While the expenses of the trip were about $12,000, the party cleared about $3000, and gained a very great deal of experience. The ditch was surveyed last week until October 17. At the hearing in Santa Fe, Judge McPhee decided that the Albuquerque Land and Irrigation Company shall take the affirmative and prove that there is at present surplus water in the Rio Grande that can be used for irrigation purposes.

According to notices received from the Postoffice Department by the Albuquerque postoffice, on and after October 1, the Albuquerque-La Junta Railway postoffice will have three postal clerks in each car, instead of two, as heretofore. Under the new arrangement all mail originating in the East and destined for California will be worked up and distributed on the run between La Junta and this city. Herbert M. Fletcher, Emmett E. Culter, David E. Sawyer and Sherman T. Andrews have already been appointed as regular clerks, to go on duty after the first of the month.

It is stated on the authority of Surveyor-General Vance, that many of the mineral surveys in the Cochiti mining district, made a few years ago, are grossly inaccurate.

The funeral of Eugene Casey, a Rough Rider who died at Camp Wikoff of typhoid fever, was held at his home at Las Cruces on the 23d inst. Business was generally suspended. Arriving in the city were William Casad and John Bryan, Rough Riders, brought Casey's remains home with them.

The Republican County Convention held at Santa Fe on the 23d endorsed McKinley's war policy. Gov. Otero's administration and the St. Louis platform.

The Normal School building at Las Vegas cannot be finished in time, and the students will of necessity be accommodated elsewhere.

Max Frost, editor of the Santa Fe New Mexican, and George T. Gould, editor of the Las Vegas Optic, are looking horns in a legal way. Frost had Gould suspended for criminal libel. William Wardman, Clarence Hoffman and Leonard Alverson were convicted recently in the United States Court at Los Angeles for violating the postal laws and were sentenced to ten years each in the penitentiary. The three men were members of the band of outlaws who endeavored to hold up a Southern Pacific train at Stein's Pass, and were afterward captured at Vinage's ranch, in the southwestern part of Arizona. On the first trial at Santa Fe the jury disagreed.

An epidemic of ague is prevailing this fall in parts of the Rio Grande Valley. Four deaths have occurred from the disease.

A. B. Morrison, who enlisted in the Rough Riders, was recently married to Miss Elma Boyd of Anthony, Fla. At least a telegram from Ocala so states. The Las Vegas Optic says Morrison is an ex-preacher of the Baptist church. He came to Las Vegas on account of his health, and when he enlisted he left his wife and two children in Vegas. They were cared for by the Ladies' Home for a time, and subsequently went to Oklahoma, where they had friends. While Mrs. Morrison was at the home she gave birth to another child.

The Lordsburg Liberal is of the opinion that the Territory is top-heavy in educational institutions and enumerates, to prove its position, a list of institutions as follows: University, agricultural college, school of mines, normal schools at Silver City and Las Vegas and the Military Institute at Roswell. The Liberal says "there is a tax laid on all the property on the assessment rolls of the Territory which amounts to one and three-quarter mills on each dollar for the support of these institutions."

Police Court Notes.

Francis Carter, a ten-year-old negro lad, was before Police Justice Owens yesterday morning, charged with stealing a bicycle from Harry Christman at the Spring-street school. He will plead on Monday at 2 o'clock.

On Tuesday, October 4, at 9:30 a. m., Drew Dorey will tell Justice Morrison all about who he disturbed the peace.

Justice Owens yesterday sentenced John Sims to pay a fine of $50, or serve fifty days in jail, for disturbing the peace. Sims formerly resided in C. Thomas, on September 28, claiming that the latter had employed him to work, and then refused to pay. The evidence didn't bear Sims' demonstration clearly that he was the aggressor; hence his heavy sentence.

W. X. Woodham obstructed the sidewalk with merchandise, for which he yesterday paid $1 in Justice Owens' court.

Jack Platt yesterday enriched the treasury to the extent of $1 in Justice Owens' court, for the privilege of getting drunk. William Mansfield was given the option of contributing a like amount, or serving three days in jail.

Constable Johnston yesterday served attachment papers for $40.30 on the establishment of George Le Roy and wife, at the end of the Downey-avenue electric car line.

Milk Inspector G. W. Hooser yesterday filed a complaint against A. Matter, a milkman, charging him with selling adulterated milk.

Tom Butler, the man who was found drunk at the back of the German-American Savings Bank a few days ago, and resisted arrest, getting a clubbing as a result, was released on his own recognizance, after sobering up, to make his appearance in court. Having failed to do so, a warrant was sworn out for his arrest yesterday afternoon.

A HONOLULU EDITOR.

H. M. Whitney Talks of Conditions in Hawaii.

H. M. Whitney, general manager of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser of Honolulu, H. I., was in Los Angeles a few days ago, en route to the Dole ranch at Riverside, where he is now visiting George B. Dole, brother of the President of Hawaii.

Mr. Whitney is one of the pioneer residents of Honolulu. He went there from Rochester, N. Y., in 1849, and has published the Pacific Commercial Advertiser for forty years. His position as a prominent newspaper man has kept him in close touch with the political life of the islands, and his opinions on the present crisis are clearly formed and definitely expressed.

According to Mr. Whitney, the vast majority among the native population is in favor of annexation. The royalist party numbers only a few hundreds, and makes but little demonstration. The more intelligent class of natives stands by the provisional government, and there is absolutely no danger of any revolution or popular uprising in favor of ex-Queen Liliuokalani. The general character of the Hawaiian island is childlike and impressionable; easily swayed by the strongest influence brought to bear, and the many advantages which will accrue from the new order of things will easily outweigh any lingering sentiment in favor of the deposed Queen. Liliuokalani herself seems to be chiefly concerned about her annual pension of $10,000 or so. Mr. Whitney thinks that any recovery of the so-called crown lands is impossible, as they are the public lands of Hawaii, and belong to the nation, instead of to the royal family. The sovereigns of Hawaii received the income derived from these lands, but they reverted to the government upon the overthrow of the throne. The question of a pension for Liliuokalani now before the Congressional Commissioners, and there seems to be no doubt in the mind of any one that a satisfactory agreement will be reached. Princess Kaula-lani, Mr. Whitney says, has no intention of creating any disturbance with a view to gaining the throne. She has an ample private fortune, in addition to her pension of $5000 a year.

As a body the Hawaiian nation has fallen into line with the supporters of the government. This, Mr. Whitney declares, is satisfactory to all but the royalist party, and is as good as any State or Territorial government in the United States. Taxation and all branches of the judiciary are conducted the same as in this country, and there will be very little change to the government, which will be given Hawaii as a Territory of the United States. The education of the natives is now carried on exclusively in English and they are making great progress in many trades and professions. Many important clerical positions under the government are filled by natives, and, as a race, they show not a little mechanical ability. Everything is conducted on an American basis in Honolulu, which is, to all intents and purposes, nearly as much of an American city as San Francisco.

Concerning the business opportunities in Hawaii, Mr. Whitney confirms the statement made by other thoughtful men that it is no place either for adventurers or laborers. Men with capital have the same chance of success as in other places, but there is no demand for outside labor.

BISCALUZ AGAIN.

Charged With Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses.

M. V. Biscailuz is again behind the bars at the City Jail. Biscailuz is the Basque attorney who, several years ago, cut quite a dash in the local French colony, having money to throw about him. However, he became too intimate with the cup that inebriated, and his downfall was rapid, until now his home is more often the City Jail than elsewhere.

A few days ago he finished serving a fifty-day fender, imposed on him by Justice Owens for drunkenness, and immediately set about securing funds to satisfy his unquenchable thirst, the result being that he now stands charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by G. Rosconi and four other countenances.

Rosconi alleges that Biscailuz came to them and represented himself as a street inspector, and that if they would pay him $1 each he would get them positions cleaning streets; that they paid the money, taking a receipt for the same, which was signed, "J. W. Smith, Inspector," and that they then went for their jobs, and found they had been buncoed.

When they called at the Police Station and described the man to whom they had paid their money, the officers recognized Biscailuz. He was brought in yesterday afternoon, and will be arraigned Monday by Justice Owens.

ANAHEIM.

Turners Preparing for a Big Time.

ANAHEIM, Oct. 1.—[Regular Correspondence.] The Turners are making elaborate preparations for the holding of the annual Southern California turnfest in this city October 9. Large delegations are assured from Los Angeles and San Diego, and several thousand people are expected.

A. McDermott, manager of the Placentia packing house, returned yesterday from San Bernardino. At Riverside he purchased two new orange-brushing machines. There will not be a packing house in this end of the county without the brushing machines when the season opens, and a good many men will be thrown out of employment in consequence.

While playing with her younger brother, who was whittling, the seven-year-old daughter of J. Trutt received an awful cut. In some way she ran against him and the knife made a gash from her eye to the corner of her mouth, which will disfigure her for life. The increase in number of students has compelled the placing of quite a number of new seats in the Buena Park school, and the appointment of an additional teacher is being agitated.

New machinery which will give employment to an additional force of workmen, was placed in the condensed milk factory this week at Buena Park.

Dr. George L. Miller of Omaha, Neb., who some years ago paid a prominent part of Horatio Seymour on the grounds of his country home, near Omaha, has now proffered the bust to the city of Utica, or to the Onondaga County Historical Society, the intention being to remove the memorial to Utica.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

LOCAL CLEARANCES. Clearances for the past week reported by the clearinghouse banks of Los Angeles were $1,157,104.30, as compared with $1,088,558.71 for the previous week, and $1,152,226.70 for the corresponding week in 1897. For the month of September the business summed up $5,973,157.34, compared with $5,458,183.78 for September, 1897. For the quarter ending September 30, the clearances were $16,071,699.83; for the quarter ending June 30, $18,724,046.87, and for that ending March 31, $18,097,738.67. For the quarter ending September 30, 1897, the figures were $15,667,237.06. The quarter just closed is also the end of the clearinghouse year, and the business of the year is $13,757,620.42 greater than for the previous year. The increase is gratifying and indicates a healthy condition of business in Los Angeles. Of course at this time many settlements are being made in cash which are usually made by check, because of the revenue stamp. So that business is really better than as indicated by the clearances.

NATIONAL CLEARANCES. For the week just closed the clearinghouse cities of the Union report clearances of $1,240,877,751, as compared with $1,225,890,915 for the previous week. The week shows an increase over the corresponding one of a year ago amounting to 1.8 per cent. It is 10 per cent. greater than the average of any time prior to the last year, excepting 1892, and it is 10 to 15 per cent. greater than the average of the last year. Los Angeles appears with a 10 per cent. credit to her account. Nearly all the large increases were in the West, and the deficits were largely in the South, where the yellow fever scare checked business.

COST OF MANAGING SAVINGS BANKS. American Investments, Buffalo, N. Y., has compiled an interesting table showing the expense of managing savings banks in New York State. This cost varies from $1.44 to $2.23 in every $1000 of resources. Such an institution as the Bowers Savings Bank of New York City, which is the largest of its kind in the country, expended $1.53 in cost of management for every $1000 of its $22,000,000 resources during that year.

COMMERCIAL.

CRANBERRY MARKET. The first cranberries of the season arrived here last week, and are on the market at $3.50 per barrel in five barrel lots, $3.75 for single barrel lots and at the rate of $4 per barrel where bulk is broken. At Cape Cod, where the crop is short, carload lots cost $5.50 to $6.50 per barrel. The New Jersey crop is larger than that of 1897, its excess being expected to make good the deficiency at Cape Cod.

Wisconsin, the third great cranberry region, reports an almost total fall in the crop. Everything looked well until recently, and growers were counting on the largest crop they had ever gathered, when a heavy frost fell on the marshes and swept things clear.

The Wallamet Sound region in Washington is becoming cranberry producers, but the crop is not yet of large volume, and the fruit is rather stunted. The prospects thus outlined seem to point to a firm cranberry market this winter. The price of the crop is expected to create more demand for cranberries.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

THE INDUSTRIAL SOUTH. The new South is certainly forging ahead in industries. As an indication of the prosperity of transportation business in the South, the Manufacturers' Record summarizes a part of the orders for rolling stock which has recently been given by southern railroad companies. The value of the orders for cars alone aggregates over $2,000,000.

NEW YORK TO AZORES. Eastern men are elated by an announcement that the Commercial Cable Company has made arrangements to lay a cable direct from Sandy Hook N. Y., to Ponta del Gada, Azores, a distance of 2770 miles. Later the line will be extended to Mediterranean ports.

QUAKERS CHANGING GARB.

Imports of precious stones at Philadelphia for two Augusts were:

Cut	1898	1897
Uncut	$1,231,505.21	$1,331,085.58
	$58,067.21	$104,632.40
Total	$1,289,572.42	$1,435,718.98

KANSAS CITY AND LOS ANGELES. Kansas City is about twice as large as Los Angeles. With the Nicaragua Canal, the San Pedro Harbor, the Salt Lake road, and the Valley road all in sight, in half a decade Los Angeles will have as many people as Kansas City has now. Here is an interesting exhibit of Kansas City from a business point of view.

Kansas City has 200,000 inhabitants. Kansas City expended $2,500,000 in building in 1897.

Kansas City stockpiles receipts last year were $500,000.

Kansas City retailed $75,000,000 worth of goods in 1897.

Kansas City spent $1,000,000 in public improvements in 1897.

Kansas City's wholesale trade amounted to $150,000,000 in 1897.

Kansas City received $10,000,000 worth of fruit and produce in 1897.

Kansas City has a banking capital of $7,500,000, and deposits of $30,000,000.

Kansas City bank clearings in 1897 were $54,000,000, an average of $45,000,000 each month.

Kansas City sells from $17,000,000 to $20,000,000 worth of agricultural implements every year.

Kansas City transfers of real estate for 1897 were over $15,000,000, an increase of 25 per cent. over 1896.

Kansas City has the best service of any city of its size in the country.

Kansas City has $25,000,000 invested in manufacturing exclusive of the packing industries and turns out $100,000,000 in products every year.

Kansas City stock yards received 6,400,000 head of live stock in 1897, valued at $110,520,000, being an increase of 775,754 head and valuation of $7,118,305 over 1896.

But Los Angeles is not yet a winter climate and tourist business.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

Potatoes are weak at 90 to $1, the general market for good to choice, a few fancy selling up to $1.10, and common lots at 80 to 85 cents. The general market for sweet potatoes is $1.00, and for small lots at 90 to 95 cents in small lots for the best.

Dried fruit is very firm at advances on some kinds.

Eggs are firm, some merchants talking higher figures. The San Francisco market is away above ours.

Butter is firm, with some prospect of higher prices next week on local creamery. Beans are held for full quotations. The market is firm.

Lemons are not so firm as heretofore. Oranges are dull, and full prices hard to realize.

First quality fresh beef is lower. Dried beef is 1/2 cent to 1 cent. Breakfast bacon is 1/4 cent lower.

FIFTEEN-DAY LINEN FEAST.

BEGINS TOMORROW MORNING AND CONTINUES FOR FIFTEEN DAYS. True to our promise we make ready the linen feast, and bid you all come and participate in its unusual price advantages. For months our buyers have been taking advantage of breaks in the markets, and closing deals with foreign mills.

Everything is in readiness now, and the table is spread, and such a spread it is. Linens from all the best mills in Ireland, Belgium, Germany, Scotland. Linens for everybody; linens for every purpose; linens for hard uses; linens for elegance; everything from kitchen crash to pattern damasks, and every single yard or piece is marked at a lower price than the same quality has ever before been sold for.

More dollars worth, more yards, more selling space, more salesmen, and more bargains than any linen sale on the coast has known. Households, hotels and restaurants should take advantage of this colossal offering.
